

Divergent Views Of Town Growth Management Sparked Controversy

Kear-Mrs. Poore At Odds On Town's Policies

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Is the requested resignation of Rhys Kear as director of community development and planning due principally to his orientation toward development as Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark has suggested?

Or is it because the Kear view is opposed to the philosophies of Selectman Susan T. Poore?

An examination of the 72-page report prepared by Clark following an almost year-long investigation of the community development department, approved by selectmen, indicates that Selectman Poore and Kear were diametrically opposed in their feelings toward growth in Andover, amplified by the single largest development in the town, the Andover Country Club.

The report contains findings made by Clark and a private investigator regarding operations of the community development department, its personnel, boards and commissions.

Despite some allegations of conflict of interest involving the administrator and some inspectors in the department, none was found. The same finding was true of allegations made at one time or another about Mrs. Poore in her capacity as a selectman, issuing gravel pit permits and personal engineering contracts.

The report discusses fully such things as Kear's personality, his relationships with the public and fellow workers and his ability to administer an office set up for the first time under his direction three years ago.

But, while pointing out that many of the problems concerning Kear's operation of the department had been overcome as time went on and the department developed, there is an underlying indication that the main problem was that of Mrs. Poore, as selectman, personally interjecting her thoughts and efforts toward departmental operations.

Shown in the report are instances where personnel within the department, such as a building inspector and a clerk, provided information to Mrs. Poore regarding procedures and operations, actions which Clark described as being insubordinate, and for which reprimands were issued.

The manager noted that while an employee's concern about a department's well-being is to be commended, there are procedures to be followed. Such concerns should follow a chain of command approach leading ultimately to the town manager, who in turn is responsible to the selectmen. Such procedure was not followed in these instances.

Clark, in addition to reaching the decision to request Kear's resignation, also arrived at a conclusion in his report that the subject matter of this report lends itself to suggest the selectmen re-examine their role in light of the town charter regarding personality and personnel matters. I respectfully request the board establish a clear policy in this regard."

The review of the department was prompted by concerns by selectmen over controversy within the community development department, as well as a memo to the manager in June, 1980 by Selectman Poore.

The basic problem seems to stem from the divergent views of growth management in Andover held by Selectman Poore and Kear.

Mrs. Poore, according to Clark's observations is opposed to growth in Andover, while Kear is development oriented, adhering to town regulations, bylaws and building codes to provide for "quality development."

"Without attempting to be fully definitive but only to discuss the issues relative to this administrative review of the Department of Community Development and Planning, Susan T. Poore as a member of the board (of selectmen) has consistently been concerned with the implementation

Hasn't Resigned As Yet

Community Development Director Rhys Kear has not as yet submitted his resignation to the town manager.

Kear, whose resignation was requested following a report of the department, has been asked to resign by June 30, but as of Wednesday had not taken any action in that regard.

The director said that he has responded to the manager concerning the study but has not received a reply as yet. He said he thought it appropriate for the manager to disclose the nature of the response for reasons of protocol.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said that he had received a letter from Kear which indicated he did not fully understand the conclusions of the report. "But I have had no indication from Rhys that he intends to fight the matter," Clark said.

The manager said he did not feel the situation had changed in any way from conversations he has had with Kear the past several weeks. "He is objecting to some of the conclusions, but I don't have any reason to believe the situation has changed."

80 Positions Could Be Cut

By Linda S. Corbett

There was something of a resigned silence in West Elementary Auditorium Tuesday night, when Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert listed nearly 80 school positions that might be eliminated next year in order to get the budget down to Proposition 2½ standards.

Seifert noted that Prop. 2½ had caused a "decimation" of the system in the true definition of the word, since nearly one-tenth of the total employees could be affected.

The possible staff cuts, some of which would be accounted for by the closing of a school, include: four administrators, 16 elementary teachers and five elementary specialists, five and a half special ed personnel, 20 secondary classroom teachers, two fulltime instructional music teachers, eight custodians, five secretaries, 11 aides, four noonhour personnel and two nurses.

The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m., this time in the West Elementary School Auditorium.

The possible staff cuts are as follows:

- Four administrators ($104,000) - including one elementary school principal (one school will likely be closed), the school building program coordinator, community resource coordinator and cafeteria director, though the cafeteria director would be picked up again by increasing the price of meals.

- Five and a half special ed personnel ($38,000) - including half a core evaluation chairman, half an adaptive phys ed teacher, half a junior high resource room teacher, a summer secretary and a summer psychologist. Seifert said the basic special ed services would be modified somewhat, with the teacher:pupil ratios increasing.

- Eight custodians ($96,000) - one and a half to be eliminated by the closing of a school, and six and a half to be cut by a revision of present cleaning and maintenance schedules. Five of the cuts would come by not filling positions presently held by temporary employees.

- Five secretaries ($40,000) - one eliminated by the closing of a school and four by centralization and consolidation of assignments with department heads and program advisors. There would still be fulltime secretarial coverage in all schools.

- Four noonhour supervisors ($4,200) - all eliminated by the closing of a school; there would still be full coverage at the other schools.

- 11 teacher aides ($68,000) - the fixed ratio of 12 hours of aide time per elementary classroom would be reduced to 10, and there would be no additional aide time for classes that are larger than school committee-set guidelines.

- Two fulltime nurses ($11,000) - increased health aide time would be added to provide a fulltime health aide in each school, a fulltime nurse at the high school and two fulltime nurses on a rotating basis, system-wide.

- 16 elementary classroom teachers ($346,000) - 16 is the largest number that could be accomplished by closing a single

Shannon To Hold Open Meeting Here

U.S. Congressman James M. Shannon is beginning his Spring season of open-forum town meetings at the Memorial Hall Library in Andover Sunday afternoon, March 22, at 2 p.m.

Through open-forum meetings held during his first term of office, Shannon has grown increasingly to value the opportunity that these meetings provide for exchange of ideas with constituents. "Because of these open-forum meetings, I am able to return to Washington after each weekend with first hand knowledge of Fifth District citizen concerns," Shannon says.

All residents of Andover are urged to attend.

The format for these meetings is informal: after the Congressman makes a few opening remarks, citizens raise questions in areas of their concern. Subjects covered in the past included energy alternatives, the budget, social security benefits, employment and foreign affairs.

The purpose of these town meetings is many-fold: to provide local residents of the Fifth Congressional District with an opportunity to question their U.S. Representative and exchange views on national issues, including current legislation; to enable Shannon to participate in this exchange and to communicate his own concerns; to keep constituents generally informed of current Congressional activity, and particularly of Congressman Shannon's work on the House Ways and Means Committee and its subcommittee on Social Security and on Trade.

Meeting At Vale

A meeting of the Ballard-Vale Improvement Society will be held on March 25 at 7:30 p.m. at the Ballard-vale United Church, corner of Hall Avenue and Clark Road, upstairs in the Sunday School Room.

Final Building Costs Due

The School Building Committee tonight is expected to get the "real figure" on which to go out to bid on the building program.

Advertisements for bids will be run March 27 to 30, with bids due by May 5 and contracts awarded by May 21. They hope to start construction by June 1.

New User Fees Are Approved

Townpeople can expect to pay more for some Community Services programs next year. In the spirit of Proposition 2½, the selectmen Monday night approved increased user fees and charges proposed by Community Services earlier this month. DCS can therefore count on earning $150,000 in increased revenues this year.

The fiscal 1982 budget for the department, which includes the new fees and charges, will be 56 to 57 percent supported by the fees, director Joan Pearson told the board. Only 35 percent of the previous year's budget was supported by fees.

Among the DCS services that will cost more next year: the use of open gyms, tennis courts, and town playing fields.

Water Plant Memorial Rejected

Because they are opposed to the idea of naming town buildings in honor of late citizens, the selectmen said Monday night that they would not agree to a request to name the water filtration plant at Haggetts Pond in honor of the late Joseph A. McCarthy.

Director of Public Works Robert McQuade, though noting that McCarthy was "an outstanding man," said he was also "against naming buildings."

It was the board's consensus that naming the plant for McCarthy would establish an unwanted precedent.

McCarthy was the chief of the experimental water station in Lawrence, McQuade said.

Selectman Susan Poore suggested that erecting memorial plaques might be a more appropriate way to honor distinguished townpeople; such plaques could be purchased by "interested groups," she said.

Licenses, Permits Approved

During a regular meeting of the selectmen at Memorial Hall Library Monday night, the board granted a number of licenses and permits.

New England Telephone and Telegraph Co. was granted permission to lay and maintain underground conduits and manholes under the surface of Shawsheen Road.

Bay State Gas Company was granted permission to excavate to repair gas mains in Salem, Andover and Central streets, and in Hemlock, Wildwood and Dascomb roads.

Herman M. Hurwitz of Newton was granted a one-day auctioneer's license for the sale of oriental rugs for Sunday, March 22, 7 to 10 p.m., at the Sheraton-Rolling Green.

The board also approved a new manager for the Ground Round on South Main Street. The new manager will be John W. Berry of Framingham.

And Shags, a Park Street bar, was granted a license to operate an automatic amusement device, a video game, during normal business hours on weekdays, and from 1 p.m. to closing on Sundays.

15 Drawn For Jury Duty

The following 15 residents were drawn for jury duty by the selectmen Monday night: Mary A. Krigbaum, 27 Boutwell Road; Ruth E. Seikunas, 21 Gould Road; Seymour H. Vogel, 15 Birch Road; Charles Jacobson, 49 River St.; Carl J. Finley, 96 Woburn St.; Douglas J. Hillman, 13 Strawberry Hill Road; Charles E. Long, 8 Yardley St.;

Sarah B. Bullard, 107 Highland Road; Kathleen J. Cronin, 8 Punchard Ave.; Saul W. Jaffe, 6 Hawthorne Circle; Nicholas C. Krikorian, 67 Memorial Drive; Rosemary Harris, 11 Dorset Circle; Robert A. Coppeta, 112 Greenwood Road; Phyllis Culpon, 17 Brookfield Road; and Robin L. Spofford, 26 High St.

Units On Health Care Planned

The Andover League of Women Voters will hold two unit meetings to present their findings to its members and the public on the subject of health care planning.

The first meeting will take place on Tuesday, March 24, at 9:15 a.m. at the home of Virginia Cascino, 5 Hackney Circle. The same information will be repeated on Thursday, March 26, at 7:45 p.m. at the home of Linda Carpenter, 2 Brentwood Circle.

The league's health care planning committee, chaired by Kathy Murphy, has worked with some interesting issues in the health care field, many of which have broad, philosophical and financial implications, as well as medical ones. This has been the first year of a two to three year study and many problems in the field will be covered more extensively next year.

The units will consist of a brief, dramatic presentation designed to bring up many of the questions health providers and consumers are facing, followed by summaries of both the state and local health plans.

Promoted

Brian T. Fitzpatrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Fitzpatrick of 24 Bellevue Road, Andover, has been promoted in the U.S. Air Force to the rank of technical sergeant.

Fitzpatrick is a general purpose vehicle and body maintenance supervisor at Holoman Air Force Base, N.M.

Gallery Tours

Sunday afternoons at 2, museum guides conduct hour-long tours of the Peabody Museum of Salem's three fascinating museums in one. There is no charge for these tours beyond the regular admission fee of $1.50 for adults, 75¢ for senior citizens, children under 16 and students with I.D.'s.

Issues to be covered include inpatient and ambulatory care, long term care, health manpower, health promotion and disease prevention and adolescent services. A glossary of the terminology will be provided.

Following this, will be a summary of what local companies are doing in the area of health promotion and why they feel it is a valuable effort.

Historic Shawsheen

Edward G. Roddy, a Merrimack College professor and Andover resident, delivers a lively talk on the unique origins of Shawsheen Village during the Annual Center Merchant of the Year award dinner last Wednesday at the Lanam Club.

ing the Annual Center Merchant of the Year award dinner last Wednesday at the Lanam Club.

Shawsheen—A Dream That Became An Actuality

By Sue Aucella Deacon

A dream made real: that is Shawsheen Village, the dream of a brilliant industrialist who brought it to life nearly 60 years ago. Professor Edward G. Roddy of Merrimack College, a master of American History, described the creation of the village last Wednesday night at the annual Merchant of the Year award dinner, conducted by the Andover Chamber of Commerce at the Lanam Club.

Roddy, an Andover resident, is the author of a history of Shawsheen entitled William M. Wood and the Origin of Shawsheen Village. His lively and entertaining talk was illustrated with slides of the village in its earliest years — many showing parts of the village that remain largely unchanged today.

Roddy described William M. Wood as the son of Portuguese immigrants who became responsible for four younger brothers and sisters at the age of 11. He began working in a cotton mill for $4 a week, but once he arrived in the Merrimack Valley during the 1880s, "his rise in the textile mills was truly remarkable," the professor said.

Wood went to work in the Washington Mill in Lawrence — then the largest woolen mill in the world — as a "trouble-shooter", earning the "decent salary" of $2,000 a year, Roddy explained. "Within three years, he had taken that mill from being in the red, to being in the black, and was earning $25,000 a year," the professor said. "And then in true Horatio Alger fashion, he married the boss's daughter, Edith."

Wood brought his bride to Andover, where he built "a lovely white house, an estate known as Arden, just a few doors away" from the Lanam Club, Roddy continued. He became the father of four children, as well as the president of the American Woolen Company — the largest woolen company in the world, at a time when the wool industry was enjoying "phenomenal profits" due to the large amounts of wool used during World War I.

The Lanam Club building was built in 1917 as a $400,000 "cottage" for Wood's oldest son, William, Jr., and his new wife. It was called Orlando Cottage. Wood's son was "the apple of his dad's eye, and was being groomed to succeed his father," Roddy said.

It was about this time that Wood began to "dream of building a modern corporate community — not for blue collar workers, that had been done, that was old history — but for top management and middle-management people, to house the entire executive force of the American Woolen

Stevens Mill Buildings Could Become Condos

The former Tyer Rubber factory, about to be converted into a housing complex, may not be the only old mill building in town to be given new life: The former J.P. Stevens mill on Stevens Street may someday be remodelled into $100,000 condominiums.

Owners of the 26-acre site, which is now rented to light industries, believe it may be ideal for a townhouse development, the planning board was told last week. Owner Burt Paley appeared before the planners seeking encouragement for the idea before he pursues it further.

Paley emphasized that the idea is in the earliest stages, and that architects have not been called in to draw up even preliminary plans.

Planning Board Chairman Frank McBride told Paley that he should probably hold off on any plans until after spring town meeting, when voters will be asked to approve a multiple-family housing amendment to the zoning bylaw. The existing bylaw includes no provisions for townhouse developments.

"I think your hands and our hands are tied until we find out what the town of Andover wants," McBride said. "After town meeting we'll get a sense of whether you should pursue it or not."

"We'll all know more about it in June after we walk out of town meeting," planner David Gravaletse added.

The planners strongly discouraged Paley from preparing a proposal for the spring town meeting. Referring to a special town meeting held last November, Jack Tomlinson said, "That would be a replication of exactly what happened before — it would be a big mess."

During the special town meeting, former selectman Sidney P. White proposed a multi-family housing bylaw amendment, and plans for a townhouse development on Andover Street. The proposed bylaw amendment was defeated, and because the development could not be built without the amendment, the development proposal was withdrawn.

Paley said he would hope to begin construction on the project one year from now.

But planner Andrew Girdwood remarked that "something of this magnitude is going to be required to come before town meeting in the spring of 1982. I think that unless it comes before town meeting, not much can be done."

The mill owners should also be aware that preliminary proposals for more than 600 multi-family units, including both apartments and condominiums, have

H.P. Hood Inc. announces the recent appointment of Richard J. Emberley to the new position of Vice President—Corporate development. Emberley's primary responsibilities in his new position will be to head Hood's expansion beyond its present businesses, and to seek out new operational ideas and concepts, enabling the existing business to operate more efficiently.

Emberley's career with Hood began in 1948. He and his family live in Andover.

come before the planners during the last few months, McBride said.

"These units alone would use up (the growth) we had anticipated for the next 10 to 15 years in the next four to five years," he explained. "If we do establish a multi-family district, the question is, where does it stop? This is something you might consider."

Paley responded that there "seems to be a demand for this type of housing in Andover." Employees of the new industries in town "are looking for places to live," he said.

When McBride asked if the proposed units could be considered "affordable" — because there seems to be a need for such housing in Andover — Paley said the units might sell for $75,000 to $100,000. However, those figures are purely estimates, he added.

If the owners are not permitted to convert the mill building into condominiums, they will continue to lease space in the building to light industries, Paley said.

"But the existing structure really cries out for some kind of multi-family residential use," he told the planners. "It is really quite a wonderful site, with the Mill Pond. We could upgrade the banks of the (Shawsheen) river and improve the open space."

The main building on the site is wood and brick, and features a bell tower, Paley said. The property includes 300,000 square feet, he added. Some wooden buildings on the site could be torn down.

Paley estimated that perhaps 200 units could be built on the "heavily wooded" site. "I could be way off on that," he cautioned. "But I think that might allow us to do some good landscaping."

Paley said the owners have not discussed the plans with any abutters "at all. We want to know what our possibilities are first."

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark, in a December memo to the planners and selectmen, said that he would like to see all industrial uses removed from the Stevens Street buildings. Converting those buildings to multiple-family dwellings would "improve upon the quality of the central business district," the manager reported.

Clark said improving the "quality of residential development in the very center of the community" should be a "major theme" of multiple-family housing in An-

School Bond Sale Due Next Week

The town manager expects to sell $100,000 in bond anticipation notes by the end of next week, to fund the school building program through awarding of the construction contract in early June.

The sale of the bond anticipation notes, which the selectmen will be asked to sign at their March 30 meeting, will "make the building program concrete," Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark told the school building committee last Thursday night. The town will then be committed to repaying the notes, he explained.

The bond anticipation notes are a temporary method of financing the $11.72 million project, and must be repaid in two or three years. The town will seek permanent financing by selling bonds in July or August, in 10, 15, or 20-year issues.

"We are doing a little bit of a juggling act to try and secure the most favorable interest rates possible," the manager said last week, explaining why the town is seeking only temporary financing at this time.

Clark hopes to obtain "the best estimated interest rates available" next summer. Last year's town meeting authorized an interest rate of up to nine and one-half percent.

Waiting until the summer will also "give sufficient time to let the legislature determine the fate of Proposition 2½, at least for this year," the manager added. He indicated that some proposed amendments to the tax-cutting law could effect the selling of municipal bonds.

The manager wants to sell the bond anticipation notes now because the $720,000 in planning funds for the building project authorized by 1978 town meeting are nearly exhausted.

Teachers Seeking Support

President Jim Redmond of the Andover Education Association Tuesday night offered free bus transportation to anyone who would join the teachers when they take their support for a Proposition 2½ override measure to the Boston Common on March 28.

The rally is being sponsored by the AEA's parent organization, the Massachusetts Teachers Association.

Redmond said many teachers had signed up already, but that they would like to be joined by members of the school committee, PTO's, parents, booster clubs and the like, in an effort to get the legislature to act.

"We would like to see Andover very well represented," he said.

"As a resident," he went on, "I want to see Andover education remain where it is today. Going to the Common is our first step to save quality education in Andover and ultimately in the Commonwealth."

Redmond said that cutting the school budget by the necessary $1,175,000 will "seriously affect the quality of education in Andover and therefore the whole community."

Yet, he said, there haven't been many people from the community turning out at the school committee meetings in recent weeks. Most conspicuous by their absence, he said, have been the parents whose children will be most affected by the budget cuts.

He said that rumors about what will be cut have started to elicit more interest and the "beginning" of concern. Even though there was a much larger-than-usual turnout Tuesday night, however, he said the auditorium should have been overflowing.

Signup sheets for persons interested in the trip to Boston were available at the door after the meeting.

Lebowitz Receives High Award

Howard H. Lebowitz

Howard Harris Lebowitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter b. Lebowitz, 4 Bittersweet Lane, and president of the student body at Phillips Academy, has received a Morehead Award to study at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

A senior at P.A., Lebowitz was recently in the public eye on the dias with Vice President George Bush when he was here to receive the Claude Feuss Award at the academy. Lebowitz is also a member of the varsity wrestling and lacross teams at P.A., and is a national Merit Semi-Finalist.

The Morehead Award is one of the largest and most prestigious of scholarships, modeled after the Rhodes program at Oxford University, England.

The program was established in 1945 by the late John Motley Morehead, a native North Carolinian and 1891 graduate, who helped found the Union Carbide and Carbon Co. in New York. The awards are given for superior achievement and poten-

In addition to the scholarship for the regular school year, during which Morehead Scholars are offered honors type courses, the recipients receive eight to 10-week internships each summer during their college careers. The summer programs offer them practical experience in leadership to supplement their classroom work, and include enrichment in outdoor leadership schools such as Outward Bound, in public agencies and private companies throughout the U.S. and in independent travel-study abroad.

Lebowitz has also been accepted on early admissions at Harvard University.

The Seashell

"Inner Dimensions of the Seashell," x-ray photographs revealing the interior structure of a variety of shells, is on through June 1 at the Museum of Science.

East Junior High Happenings

By Karen Kulig and Dani D'Appolito

Recently Mrs. Susan Feenr spoke to the student council about the Horizons for Youth Walk-a-thon. It will take place on April 5. All money raised by the students will go to help disadvantaged children.

The East Junior High band will combine with West to participate in the fine arts festival to be held at the high school Saturday, March 21. The cast of "Godspell" will perform in the festival also.

The first round competition in the Eastern Massachusetts Chapter American Association of French Teachers National French Contest was held last Saturday. East Junior High students scored very well. The following students placed in the top 10 out of 60 in the beginning level: Christine Bennette, Chantal Pierrat, Kevin Flynn, Christie Castle, Amy McCormick, Linda Newman, Jim McAllister, Patrick Fleming, Steve Gemmell, Cheryl Giamusso, Laura VanDoren, Monique Guillet, Laurie MacDonald and Liz Erban. In the intermediate level the top 10 out of 90 were: Maureen O'Brien, Anne Wahr, Lauren Mencis, Cathy Smith, Lauren McCormick, Michelle Saunders, Maraie Sapienza, Jennifer Riehl, Mark Paskowsky, Jenni Lewis and Christine Bogusz. In the next level, Lisa Foster, Margaret Gemmell, Abby Robb, Hang Dang and Marek Pierrat placed in the top 10 out of 65 students.

Thomas Button is presently helping the seventh, eighth and ninth grade choruses and the G Clefs prepare for the Spring Cabaret. Al Graceffa is also rehearsing the band which will perform in this annual event.

They enjoyed a pizza lunch with principal William Hart. They're names will be permanently posted in the main foyer of the school and special T-shirts were given to the new Western Stars.

Bill Fleichman has organized the girls' softball team for the 81 season. Also recently established was the WJH gymnastics team. The best of luck to both of them during their seasons.

This week of March 16-20 was named career week for the freshman class. During the week guest speakers from many different fields of employment including a diplomat, marine biologist, sports announcer, computer analyst, personnel manager, economist, physical therapist, and an expert on women in construction, have given the students a chance to explore job opportunities open to them in the future. We would like to thank all of the volunteer speakers for sharing their careers with us.

Diet facts & fallacies

These nutritional tips brought to you by DIET CENTER

How can you tell if you are obese? Trying to judge your weight by the charts can be deceptive. You can actually be in your correct weight range and be overweight. The easiest way, and most obvious, is to look at yourself in a full-length mirror. If you look fat, you probably are fat. Another method is using the "pinch" test. Measure the amount of fat by pinching your skin and underlying fat between your thumb and first finger. The place to do this is the back of the upper arm. If the fold of skin and fat is greater than an inch, you are excessively fat. For men there is a simple test. If your beltline is no longer than the circumference of your chest, you have too much abdominal fat.

If you determine that excess fat is a problem for you, Diet Center can help you correct this condition safely and quickly.

Rosengard Chosen Ambassador

Dana S. Rosengard, son of Richard A. Rosengard of 28 Windsor St., Andover, recently was chosen as one of 34 student ambassadors for the Alumni Association of the University of New Hampshire, Durham, N.H.

Rosengard, a junior honor student with a communications major and a physical education minor, will work with the other ambassadors to provide more direct and effective communication between students and alumni. He is also president of Sigma Nu fraternity and student co-chairman of the UNH alumni phonathon. Rosengard graduated from Andover High School in 1978 where he was active in marching and concert band, the drama club, and Temple Emanuel Youth Group.

Tuition Hike At Merrimack

Merrimack College will increase tuition $560 and room and board $316 for the 1981-82 academic year, it was announced by President John A. Coughlan, O.S.A.

Tuition will be $4,260 and room and board will be $2,700 for a total rate of $6,960, an increase of $876 from this year's rate. The changes represent a 15 percent increase in tuition and 13 percent increase in room and board.

On Dean's List

Several Andover residents were named to the Dean's List for scholastic achievement during the first semester of the 1980-81 academic year at Wentworth Institute of technology.

They are: Andrew Cobin, Electronic Technology, 26 Wolcott Ave.; Paul F. Farrington, Electronic Technology, 2 Cheever Circle; Stephen C. Morin, Aeronautical Technology, 72 Park St.; and Kevin J. Muldoon, Aircraft Maintenance Technology, 3 Archer Lane, all of Andover.

that these increases are the lowest we could institute without weakening the college by forcing curtailment of academic programs and student services," explained Fr. Coughlan.

He cited the soaring costs of food, fuel oil, electricity and the increased costs of salaries with added social security and medical insurance benefits as reasons for the increase.

"We have experienced the greatest increase in utility costs as they have more than doubled over the past four years while actual usage of fuel and electricity has decreased," said the Merrimack president.

Language Classes

Beginning the week of March 30, the International Institute of Greater Lawrence will initiate a series of foreign language classes which will meet once weekly, evenings from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. Each course will last 12 weeks.

The purpose of the International Institute's Foreign Language Program is to provide interested people with the opportunity to study a foreign language to acquire a knowledge of its grammatical structure, to develop conversational skills and to learn something of that language group's culture and history.

Diane Sternberg, media librarian at West Elementary, was granted a leave of absence for next year; Julie Cofield, primary teacher at West Elementary, was granted an extension of her child-rearing leave for next year, as was Christine Zampell, science teacher at the high school; and Carolyn Warwick, grades 2 and 3 teacher at Shawsheen, was given a personal leave for next year.

Sewer Line Construction Allowed

T.D.J. Development Corporation has been granted permission by the selectmen, sitting as sewer commissioners, to build an eight-inch sewer at its own expense through the property of two homeowners, to service several lots in the Olympic Village subdivision.

The sewer extension will cost the town nothing, the town manager reported to the board, and the plans have been approved by both the Public Works department and the Community Development and Planning department.

The manager added that the plan is within the restrictions developed under the town's master sewer plan.

Road Race Approved

The Knights of Vartan will sponsor a 10-kilometer foot race, with the selectmen's approval, starting at 11 a.m. on Sunday, May 3, to raise money for its scholarship fund.

The town manager recommended that the race be approved, provided that satisfactory arrangements are made with the chief of police regarding the route and other requirements.

Adaptive Environments To Be Topic

The Third Annual Conference on Adaptive Environments will be held March 25 to 28 at the Adaptive Environments Center, Massachusetts College of Art, Boston.

The conference will include four days of workshops, slide presentations, group discussions on the hows and whys of designing environments to meet the needs of handicapped persons. Call the Center for further information.

Sports Budget Cut 50%

A 50 percent cut in the physical education budget, a cut that would reduce the number of interscholastic sports offered in the secondary schools from 26 to 14, was presented to the school committee Tuesday night.

The cut, from $205,000 to $105,000, is just one alternative facing the committee as it goes about the hacking necessary to get their overall budget down by $1,175,000.

Athletic Director Dick Swift said the proposal includes cutting total sports back from 26 to 14, the number of teams from 79 to 35, and number of participants from 1670 to 1068.

Among the programs cut would be 8th grade interscholastics, wrestling, indoor track, skiing, swimming, tennis, golf, volleyball, hockey and sophomore football and basketball.

Those surviving, Swift said, include boys football, soccer, basketball and baseball on the varsity, junior varsity and junior high levels; boys cross country and spring track on the varsity and JV levels; boys gymnastics on the varsity and junior high levels; girls field hockey, basketball and softball on the varsity, JV and junior high levels; girls soccer and cross country on the varsity and J.V. levels and girls gymnastics and track on the varsity and junior high levels.

Swift said the athletic directors in the Merrimack Valley Conference and in the state have been meeting regularly for some time, in anticipation of cuts that might be required by Prop. 2½. He said they have tried to develop consistent criteria for cutting sports, though they "all feel very strongly that every program we have is vital to the secondary schools."

He said they have tried to make the proposed changes and still keep quality, continuity of programs beginning in junior high, a balance between female and male sports, and variety.

Neighbors Halt Blaze At Doorstep

A group of Abbot Street neighbors Sunday afternoon thought Proposition 2 1/2 had already happened to them.

With Selectman Norma Gammon and husband first on the scene, about a dozen residents broke out hoses and shovels and brooms and blankets, "anything we could get our hands on," to stop a blaze that was spreading up over the ridge from the Abbot Bridge development and across Sarah Wiss's back yard at No. 111.

The volunteer firefighters stopped the fire just as it got to Miss Wiss's garage, and not before it had ignited some of the grape vines in her garden. Five more minutes, one of the neighbors believes, "the house would have gone too."

Two trucks did eventually arrive and unroll their hoses to spray the burning underbrush that remained along the ridge. After they left, neighbors and a remaining fireman dug into hot spots that were still spouting enough smoke to be visible from the street.

What the neighbors wondered all the while was why it took the fire department 10 to 15 minutes to get there.

Sarah Wiss said she had told the fire department the fire was coming over the ridge toward her house and to come to Abbot Street, and Don Gammon left the burning brush long enough to go back into his house next door and call the fire department for a second time himself.

The officer in charge returned to the scene to explain to Mrs. Gammon that they had "approached the fire from the other side," where it had started in a garden plot and fanned out through the brown grass up the hill to the ridge. The fire trucks were down there 10 to 15 minutes before they came up to Abbot Street, he said.

"They must have been blind," says one of the Abbot Street neighbors. "There was no way that fire was going to go backwards when it was coming up the hill. Billy-be-damned, with a 40-mile-an-hour wind behind it."

The smoke up on top was so thick before the firemen arrived that one couldn't see from one house to another a block away. People arrived by car from as far away as Central Street and Hidden Road, where they feared that a forest fire coming up the hill in the wind could overtake them as well.

The officer also explained that he could not commit more than two pieces of equipment to a "grass fire."

The charcoaled grass stops right at Sarah Wiss's garage, note the neighbors who put it out, while onlookers commented that they might be fighting more of their own fires if 2 1/2 causes a reduction in the professional ranks.

Art Restoration To Be Shown

A new documentary slide show on some phases in the restoration of works of art will be presented at the Andover Historical Society, 97 Main St., Sunday, March 22, at 2 p.m.

biographical sketch of each subject and any information available about the artist.

This presentation had technical assistance from Andover High School. Script and narration are by Geneva H. Killorin of the Historical Society's House Collection Committee.

The public is invited to this new show. Admission is free.

The Public Forum

Letter To Reagan

Letter To The Editor Of The Townsman:

Mr. Reagan: How Come a 40% cut in Federal Funds for the National School Lunch Program?

The Federal Government has proposed a 40 percent in federal funding from the National School Lunch Program. How come, when he has stated a 10 percent cut across the board? We in school lunch, as well as many other taxpayers, voted for Mr. Reagan because we do need relief, but should it be at the expense of serving nutritional meals to our students at a price that's affordable? If this 40 percent cut is passed, school lunch prices will be raised to $1.25 and higher. Can we afford this? Mr. Reagan wants to give a $10,000.00 cut to the rich, but no low cost lunches for middle income children. What good is it to receive $100.00 more in income tax refunds if it's going to cost us $200.00 more in school lunches? Mr. Reagan has a $1,000,000 ranch that he pays only $1,100.00 in real estate taxes. His inaugural cost $8,000,000.00. How about this $200,000.00 flights to California? Who is kidding whom? Kids need low cost lunches. I urge parents and students alike to drop a line to their senators and get them moving in Washington to oppose such a drastic cut in Federal Aid to our School Lunch Programs. A postcard and two minutes of your time will help.

Meaningful Lesson

To The Editor Of The Townsman:

As noted in this week's Townsman, a group of Andover High School students attended and successfully returned from a trip to New York City to attend the 1981 National High School Model U.N. Since part of the funding for this trip came from the town school committee, I feel obligated to tell everyone a little about our experience.

The substance and the details of the trip have already been mentioned, and therefore, I'd like to dwell on other aspects of our journey. When I was giving my father a left-handed explanation of this trip and my reasons for wanting to attend, I really didn't expect what the next few days would teach me. Our delegation represented El Salvador, and at times during the trip, I felt like we were experiencing our own inter-delegation civil war. Much to our pleasure, we were awarded at the end of the conference for having the qualities the conference felt deserved the recognition of "outstanding delegation."

This recognition rounded out the scholastic part of our experience, but I'd like to talk about the more meaningful lessons I think we've learned

I look upon myself as a fairly self-sufficient person, a quality which has its pros and cons. I felt confident about traveling to New York and subsequently felt prepared. I was to find myself in a different situation, however. The first night, in a rebellious attitude, I decided to eat alone. As I walked to a pizza shop, I became engrossed and fell prey to a street game. As I look back on the incident though, the 40 dollars I lost really was worth it. I stormed to my room and screamed at my roommate. I was upset that I lost, but inside I was really mad because I didn't expect what happened. My despair came from the fact that New York is the real world, 200 miles from the security of home. The game is played for keeps, with no second chances.

Later in the week, Phil Nelson, a high school teacher, came down on his own account to photograph the occasion. Photography is Mr. Nelson's hobby, and he accumulated quite an array of equipment. As luck would hold, Murphy's Law seemed to be the Magna Carta of our expedition. Mr. Nelson left his car at the hotel entrance to come up and check in with us. When he returned, he discovered $3000 worth of camera equipment was gone, his suitcase had evaporated, and his sleeping bag took a hike! Following my example, he stormed into the hotel to call the police, and when he returned to the car to meet the officers, he discovered a second break, this time relieving him of some cassettes and a car tape deck.

When I heard of the incident, I couldn't really comprehend the full extent of this behavior. What kind of person would have the audacity to go to a car twice, in full view, and commit such acts? I found myself quite tense, unbelieving that I couldn't ever put my guard down. Life for we Andoverites is never so tense. You find yourself constantly waiting and looking for the next bit of fun.

My purpose in writing is just to relate to others from one who has seen. I ask the townspeople to take seriously and look for events of this kind to send their own. Our school system provides us with a great academic preparedness; however, I find the world to be more than just the classrooms and corridors we call school. The real classroom is the streets of New York, the office buildings in Boston, the farms of the midwest. I'm beginning to discover the "other" world. I seek out and enjoy conversations with ABC students for just that reason. Education should seek to find more of a balance between the classroom and city life. I will quickly tell you that it hurts to get knocked down, but as Coach Collins put it, "the real test of someone is what they do when they get up." I know and hope others will support events which will cause people to rise stronger. To put it in a nutshell, you learn by experience.

In closing, we should all thank Craig Simpson, Patricia Dye, Sarah O'Brien, and Phil Nelson, for the patience of dealing with us rebels as we took in the adventure of seeing how crazy we could be with 1500 other nationwide kids. I thank the town for its help in providing this experience.

Financially Well Off

To The Editor Andover Townsman:

The Town of Andover is financially well off and has been for many years. Therefore, we should be able to balance the Town Budget for 1981-82-83 if the town government—plus departments and voters, do not overspend on non-essential things—stick to the essential—it pays off. Andover should not have to ask the state for assistance on account of Prop. 2½, which needs to be amended to make it more workable for the cities and towns in Massachusetts.

A few essentials for Andover—number 1 and 2. Fire and police personnel should not be cut in regards to Andover's need for good protection against arson—theft—crime—and accidents. Strong protection alleviates some of these problems. Keep up your good work in line of duty to both fire and police personnel for which the citizens of Andover are most grateful.

Essential number 3—Public Works Department should not be cut, as they have many jobs to perform. They are doing them exceedingly well—for which I salute them. They plow, sand and salt over 250 miles of roads after each snowstorm, lay new sewer pipes for new constructions in town, replace old pipes for new, clean streets, gutters of leaves—thus help keep Andover clean—prune many trees. Public Works operates our water treatment plant in Andover to give us plenty of good water which is just great. Public Works oversees Spring Grove Cemetery. It is well kept and a credit to the town of Andover. Public Works is responsible for the upkeep of our beautiful Central Park for all to enjoy, which people certainly do.

It would be wonderful if some critics in Andover who verbally or by writing, criticize the fire, police and Public Works departments without understanding.

Initially, only Boston destinations will be processed. If demand exists, other locations will be considered at a later date. Forms are now available at Memorial Hall Library to indicate destination and hours. This project is being co-ordinated by Irving Gershenberg, a library patron, and Dorothy Sherrerd of the library staff.

The Shameless Old Lady

School Closing Issue Due For Discussion Tuesday Night

23 THE TOWNSMAN, MARCH 19, 1981

By Linda S. Corbett

While a school closing appears more and more of a necessity to cut next year's budget down to Prop. 2½ size, the question of which school it will be will likely be the hot potato in coming weeks.

Since a closing impacts other areas of the budget, such as teacher salaries and building expenses so severely, the topic will most likely be high on the agenda when the school committee meets again Tuesday night, at 7:30 p.m., in the West Elementary Auditorium.

Principals Joe Normandy and Jack Coyle presented a "preliminary" study of various school closing options this week, and that study seemed to eliminate West, Bancroft and Sanborn right off the bat, because they're too big.

That leaves South, Shawsheen, the Traditional Program, or a combination of the Traditional with one of the other two schools as the real possibilities at the moment.

Normandy said the administrators began the study by projecting an enrollment of 2188 for next year in grades 1 through 6, based on pupils currently in Andover schools. There are available, he said, 2576 total seats in the present five elementary schools.

He said they had looked at maintaining consistency of services and maintaining a kindergarten in all schools, as well as space for special education classes. They hoped, he said, to maintain logical geographical boundary lines, and keep families together in the same elementary school.

Coyle explained that they had looked at seven plans, but hadn't pursued West, Bancroft or Sanborn.

If West were closed, he said, it would leave the system short 480 seats; Bancroft would leave the system short 116 seats, plus the 64 vacant seats in the West Traditional program this year; and Sanborn would leave the system short 88 seats plus the 64

When they got down to South, he said, a closing became more viable. Closing South, he said, would leave the system with a capacity of 2,156 in the remaining four schools, or 32 seats short plus the 64 from Traditional.

He said they could do it, though some consistency of services would be disrupted. Sanborn, for instance, would lose music and art rooms. The commitment to growth and development model would be affected, the 28:1 ratio would be exceeded at Bancroft, Sanborn, Shawsheen and West, and combination grades would have to be established at Bancroft, Shawsheen and West.

The term "meat packing" comes to us from early American colonists, who salted their pork and packed it in barrels for use during the winter.

A South closing, he said, would save the system $460,000 in salaries, plus $62,780 in fuel and utilities (at today's costs). It would also save the system $100,000 in roof repairs that are imminent.

Closing Shawsheen, the report said, would leave 2268 available seats, or a leeway of 16, counting the 64 Traditional vacancies. Consistency of services would be maintained in all schools, the growth and development model would not be affected, and families would be kept together. There would be combination grades required at all the remaining schools, all for a total savings of $403,000 in salaries and $49,180 in utilities.

Shutting down the Traditional Alternative at West, the report said, would leave the system with 2,576 seats, or an average of 388, and save salaries in the area of $410,000. There would be no savings in utilities, because West would still remain open. No boundary changes would be necessary, and there would be combination grades at Sanborn, Shawsheen and South. In schools where there were three or more teachers per grade, Coyle said, a structured classroom could be established.

A new possibilities was the closing of both Shawsheen and the Traditional Alternative, for a savings of $434,000 in salaries plus $49,180 in utilities at Shawsheen.

There would be a seating capacity of 2,268 in the system, or an average of 80 seats. By way of other impact, the traditional children would be returned to their neighborhood schools, with structured classrooms where the numbers permitted. The 28:1 ratio could be maintained fairly consistently throughout the system, there would be no affect on the growth and development commitment, and new district lines would be as geographical as possible, with no change in South and Sanborn school lines.

Finally, the closing of both South and the Traditional was explored. That combination left a seating capacity of 2156, or a need for 32 more seats. However, if the special classes at Bancroft and Shawsheen were transferred to West Elementary, there would be an additional 63 seats at Bancroft and 15 at Shawsheen, so only four more would be needed.

That combination would mean the ratio of 28:1 would be exceeded at the remaining elementary schools, consistency of services would likely be disrupted at Sanborn, the commitment to growth and development would be affected, some combination grades would have to be established and new district lines drawn.

In answer to a question from the audience, Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert noted that no substantial savings could be shown in the bus transportation account if the Traditional Program were closed, because St. Augustine pupils would still have to be transported around the same routes that now cover them both.

Any additional transportation costs caused by a school closing had not yet been determined, and will be presented at a subsequent meeting.

School Project Estimates On Tonight's Agenda

25 THE TOWNSMAN, MARCH 19, 1981

The school building committee will find out tonight if the $11.72 million school building project is within its budget or needs further trimming, when the committee hears final cost estimates for the project.

Alfred Fogarty of A.M. Fogarty Associates, Inc., will present his final estimates on the three-part program for improving the town's secondary schools at 7:30 p.m. at town hall. Fogarty's estimates are based on the final construction drawings recently completed by architects from Perley F. Gilbert Associates, Lowell.

A cost analysis completed in November showed that additions and renovations to the Doherty school are expected to cost $6,028,000; to West Junior High, $1,065,924; and to Andover High School, $4,714,076.

The building committee cut $810,700 from the building plans in November to bring the project within its budget, approved by last year's town meeting. The most substantial cuts were made in plans for the new 1,250-seat high school auditorium.

Last Thursday, building committee member Paul Curley asked the architects what "contingency plans" they have made in case Fogarty's estimates show the project is still over budget.

Project architect Gerry Dion replied that the architects would "go through the construction phases and see what you want to do. If the figures come in high, we would start attacking segments."

But Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark pointed out that the "structural changes to the buildings are now largely fixed — to go back at this point in time and redesign the project is not going to happen."

The "only contingencies built in," the manager added, are one $27,000 playing field at the high school, and the equipment budget, which until now "has been largely left intact."

Doubt over how the estimates will come in prompted Curley to suggest the committee hold off paying a $53,000 bill to the architects until the committee could hear Fogarty's report.

Committee member William Munroe, presenting a financial status report to the committee last week, said that the architects had been paid $411,000 out of a total $633,000 spent on the project to date.

Munroe told Curley that "nothing in (the architect's) contract permits us to withhold dollars. It would not be fair or reasonable to keep money away from them."

Curley replied that he was "very concerned about the final cost of the project" because of "the delay the project has suffered." The project has fallen two months behind schedule because of architects' delays, and the need to redesign parts of the project to trim costs.

The only tool we have to make a contractor perform is their payment," Curley said. "I want to set a tone, not only for here and now, but for a year from now, when there will be builders to pay, and the bills will be much larger."

Architect Herb Glassman told the committee that Curley was "asking for something you are not entitled to under our contract. We have frequently extended ourselves much beyond our written commitments to expedite the project," he added. "There is no question that we have done the work."

The architects "may have done the work," committee member Virginia Cole commented, "but they are not doing it as fast as we want them to — they always fall behind."

However, the committee voted to approve payment of the bill, at the manager's recommendation.

I share Paul's concern about the time and cost, but I don't think delaying the check by a week would influence costs, so we should approve it," committeeman Donald Robb explained.

But I underscore again the committee's concerns about those factors," Robb added. "They are critical, and we ought to use the power of the purse."

Glassman reported that final preparations for getting the project out to bid are now on schedule. Final construction drawings for Doherty were submitted to the state School Building Assistance Bureau (SBAB) on March 3; plans for West were scheduled for SBAB review last Friday, and the high school plans, tomorrow.

The manager said Friday that he is "not pleased" with the current schedule. "We should have had the construction contract awarded by now," Clark indicated. "This is spring — construction should be starting."

Each month of delay adds a month of inflation to the cost of the project, and we are under a very tight budget," the manager explained.

Hydrologic Cycle

The oceans are a reservoir for more than 97 percent of the world's water supply. Through a natural process known as the hydrologic cycle, water is continuously transported from the seas to the land and back again, providing water for plants and animals. Life-supporting oxygen comes to us from the oceans too. Some scientists believe that the oceans' one-celled plants, phytoplankton, supply more oxygen to the atmosphere than all the forests on earth.

ences as an educator. Callagy has been an educator for 35 years and has been involved with adolescents in many aspects. He will discuss today's high school students and the problems and challenges they face.

Faith Johnson, director of Christian Education at West Parish Church, Andover, and professor of the Andover-Newton Theological School, will direct her talk to adolescence, a time for confirming opposites.

Guests are welcome. For further information, call Kathleen Callagy, Lawrence, Joan Shea, Andover, or Patricia Gorton, Georgetown.

Children And TV To Be Topic

A special showing of the movie, "Kids For Sale," is being sponsored by the members of T.W.I.G.S. Friday, April 3, at 8 p.m. at South Church.

An open discussion will follow the film, led by Dr. Michael Gilchrist, an area pediatrician and member of the Chelmsford Medical Associates, and active volunteer of A.C.T. (Action for Children's Television).

The 20-minute color montage documents the commercial exploitation of children by television broadcasters and advertisers, and graphically illustrates how television shapes the outlooks, insights and values of the nation's children.

Parents in the film are outspoken in their advice to others who share their concerns: they offer positive strategies for guiding young viewers through the potential pitfalls of their television experience.

A.C.T., founded in 1968, is a national, nonprofit consumer organization working to improve broadcasting practices related to children. Through legal action, education and research, A.C.T. tries to encourage diversity and eliminate commercial abuses in children's television.

Refreshments will be served; admission will be charged at the door.

Excluding disc-jockey shows, the longest continuous radio broadcast of 222 hours was made by Bob Reitman of WQFM of Milwaukee, Wisc., from Aug. 12 to 21, 1976.

Waste Plant Supported

29 THE TOWNSMAN, MARCH 19, 1981

The proposed solid waste disposal plant to be built in North Andover has won the support of the Solid Waste Study committee, town manager, director of Public Works and at least two selectmen. All have recommended that Andover contract with that plant.

But after hearing the committee's report on the waste plant proposal Monday night, some town officials and citizens are still "nervous" about entering into a 20-year contract with United Oil Products, Inc. (UOP), the company that will build the $74 million plant.

Committee Chairman Thomas Stark told the selectmen that his committee still holds with the finding it made nearly two years ago — that "UOP is the way the town should go, and we should do it soon to get the thing going."

Director of Public Works Robert McQuade added that after a 12-year study of the solid waste disposal question, it appears that UOP offers "the most economical package out there. It has got the technology, the financing — in all aspects that we have reviewed, this is the one project that stands out from the others."

Selectman Jerry Silverman moved that the selectmen accept the committee's recommendation; the question would then be placed on the town meeting warrant for voter approval. Selectman Norma Gammon seconded the motion.

"If our committee feels that this is the best solution for our town and for the future, then this is the way we should go," Silverman said, adding that he was "very happy" to accept the recommendation.

But Selectman Susan Poore requested more information on the UOP proposal and the one submitted by a rival company, Refuse Fuels, Inc. (RFI), before the board makes a decision, possibly at their March 30 meeting.

"There is a tremendous amount of money involved in this," Poore pointed out. "It's a fairly serious commitment for any community to make." Several issues raised by RFI deserve "responses," she added, even though the issues were raised "by a party that has a vested interest."

The "basic difference" between the two proposals, according to Stark, is that UOP offers revenue sharing to the communities who contract with it, while RFI does not. UOP will sell the electricity generated by the disposal plant and return some of the profits to the communities, he explained. RFI will also sell electricity, but will retain all of the profits.

However, RFI will not require municipalities to enter into 20-year contracts, as UOP will. Towns will be able to cancel their agreements with RFI at any time.

In theory, UOP could end up paying money back to the municipalities, Stark said. "I don't really think that will happen, but the UOP proposal does look more attractive, especially with the cost of electricity going up."

He added that UOP is "a multi-billion dollar organization with proven technology — it has had plants operating since the fifties." Refuse Fuels has a "relatively new" technology, and has not provided the committee with financial statements.

Stark said he has seen no evidence that RFI "will continue to operate if they run into a troublesome period."

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark emphasized that the town would enter into a contract with UOP at some risk, because the fees charged to the town will vary: if the price of electricity continues to rise, the cost to the town will decrease; but if the cost of electricity goes down, the town's costs will rise.

The manager added, "I don't think those risks are extraordinary."

But Rusty Dunbar of the Finance Committee was less certain. "I get a little scared about this contract when you talk about the variable sum concept," she told Clark. "This is a very open-ended deal, from what I can gather, with no protections for the town."

Virginia Cole of Andover Recycling, Inc., also raised a number of questions that she said she has been "trying to get answered for three or four years."

Among her questions: where will the landfill associated with the incinerator be located? how will UOP see that acid rain does not "come out of the stacks in North Andover"? who owns UOP? who will decide if recyclable materials can be removed from refuse before it is incinerated?

how much control will Andover have over the plant operations? what other alternatives are available to the town?

Before we sign up for 20 years, we should consider everything," Cole said.

Genealogists To Meet

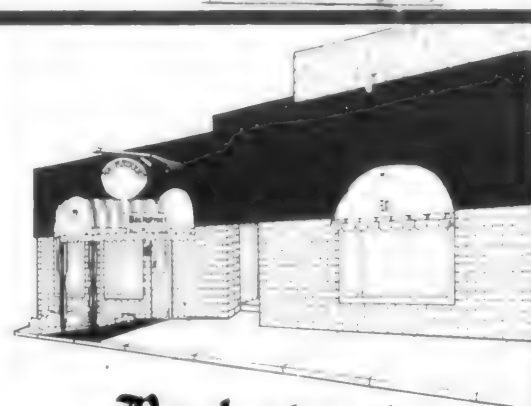

James Michael O'Toole will address the Essex Society of Genealogists at 1 p.m. March 21, at the Old Meeting House, Lynnfield.

O'Toole, archivist for the Catholic Archdiocese of Boston, was formerly deputy archivist for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and assistant to the curator of manuscripts and rare books for the New England Historical Genealogical Society.

He will speak on Massachusetts Catholic Records contained in the Archives of the Catholic Archdiocese of Boston. Few but chancellors, chancery workers and some scholars know this impressive collection exists, and it could be of tremendous help to genealogists researching Catholic ancestors in New England.

Reprimand License Holder

The selectmen Monday night found Driscoll's Package Store, Inc., 5 Bartlett St., guilty of selling liquor to a minor last July 2, and voted to send a letter of reprimand to the store.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said that the sale was the first offense for the store on record; under the selectmen's policy on license violations, a written reprimand is the response to a first offense.

The Andover Police Department brought the complaint against Driscoll's in a public hearing at Memorial Hall Library. Police Detective John Bernhardt of the police department alleged that he and his partner observed a youth leaving the store with a case of beer. When the officers confronted the youth, the boy said he had "left his driver's license at home."

The officers took the youth back into the store. Bernhardt told the board, where the clerk said he had served the 16-year-old boy without seeing any identification.

Town Counsel Alfred Daniels told the selectmen that the clerk no longer works at Driscoll's, calling that "sufficient evidence that a violation had been committed.

Warren Young of Driscoll's appeared before the board without legal counsel, and told the board that he did not object to the hearing being held eight months after the incident.

The manager explained that the hearing was being held at this time because last summer, the board's policy was to hold hearings after cases had been settled in court. He added that he had also "lost track of it."

Selectman Susan Poore reminded Clark that it is now the board's policy to hold hearings "in a more timely fashion."

The selectmen's liquor licensing policy calls for issuing a reprimand after the first offense; suspending the license for one to five working days after the second offense within a year; and suspending the license for one week to 30 working days for the third offense within a year.

Waste Plant

and we should look at it from Andover's point of view.

Selectmen Chairman James Abramson instructed the manager to make the answers to those questions available to the board, along with a comparison between the UOP and RFI proposals.

UOP hopes to process 1,500 tons of refuse per day at the North Andover incinerator. The plant will not begin operating until 900 tons are committed; a 1985 start-up date is planned. Approximately 50 communities within a 25-mile radius of the plant are expected to contract with UOP. Stark indicated

Return From Medical Mission

Chuck Reese, his wife, Barbara, a registered nurse, and their daughter, Karen, all of North Andover, recently returned from a short-term mission to the Dominican Republic as part of a team of physicians, surgeons, dentists, nurses, para-medical and general support personnel who conducted a general medical, surgical and dental program.

The surgical team worked in the towns of San Jose de las Matas, Sosua and Santo Domingo, performing surgery in the local government hospitals. The clinical/dental teams worked in the town surrounding San Jose de las Matas and Sosua. These clinics are set up in church buildings or schools with the cooperation of local evangelical churches and local coordinators.

Participants in this project paid all their own expenses and contributed medical supplies to help supplement those purchased by the Medical Group Missions program. About ten projects are conducted throughout the year, most of them taking place in the Dominican Republic and Honduras, with occasional visits to other countries. The Christian Medical Society, with headquarters in Richardson, TX, is an association of Christian physicians and dentists who seek to witness their Christian faith in and through the medical and dental professions. Participation in M.G.M. is open to any interested person.

"Spirit Alive! Mind Awaken! Faith in Action!" is the theme of the second annual West Parish Church Lenten study series being offered on four consecutive Sunday evenings. The congregation, friends and interested persons from the community will participate in fellowship, worship and study consistent with the progression of Lent, its message of spiritual search and hope. Programs on March 22, 29, April 5, and 12 will begin at 5:30 p.m. in Fellowship Hall with light suppers hosted by Missions Council and Music Committee, Christian Education Committee and the Youth Fellowship, and Diaconate; the final program dinner will be a casserole and salad pot luck meal with rolls and dessert provided.

Following each meal will be a brief worship service presented by members of the church and Youth Fellowship. As last year, the worship leaders will endeavor to include creative forms of celebration with the more traditional ones. Babysitting will be available from 6:15 until 7:30.

The courses offered are intended to appeal to a variety of ages and interests. Led by Christian Education Director Faith A.

Council Director Speaker

"The Edge of A New era" will be the subject of the sermon to be preached by Diane Kessler, associate director of Mass. Council of Churches, at West Parish Church at the 10:30 a.m. Worship Service on Sunday, March 22. Ms. Kessler, who directs strategy and action for the council, is involved in research, education, and action in those areas of social concerns around which member denominations chose to work ecumenically. She is a graduate of Oberlin College and Andover Newton Theological School. Before joining the staff of the Massachusetts Council of Churches, Ms. Kessler worked in both the Vermont and the Massachusetts State Legislatures. Ms. Kessler is also author of a book, "Parents and the Experts," which has been chosen to be part of the American Baptist's Series on Marriage and the Family.

In the evening at 6:30, Ms. Kessler will lead the first session of a course in the Lenten Series. "Biblical Foundations for Social Action" will be the emphasis. Jared Clark, Town Manager, will build upon that presentation in succeeding Sunday evening sessions.

Other courses that will be offered are: "Valuing Myself and My Gifts" led by the Rev. Paul Clinton, "Ways of Health" led by Jean Carnes, R.N., "Hope: Food for Life" led by Rev. Nancy Klassen, "The Feeling Circus" led by Faith Johnson, director of Christian Education and Margot Porter, and "Traveling Music—Through Time and Space," led by Mark Peterson, director of music.

Special Film At Church

A film entitled "The Power Of Prayer" will be shown at the Andover Bible Chapel, 266 Lowell St., Andover, on Sunday evening, March 22, at 6 p.m.

"Why should we pray? How should we pray? For what should we pray? What is unanswered prayer?" These are questions man has asked since God first spoke to him—questions that must be answered! Far too long, prayer has been overlooked as a subject for a definite film... but now ECRF Films presents its newest release

"The Power Of Prayer."

The opening moments of the film are spent in Israel, examining thousands of years of Jewish history and how they pertain to prayer. "The Power Of Prayer" features some of the most well-respected, Christian spokesmen in America; such as Dr. W.A. Criswell, Dr. John F. Walvoord, Josh and Dottie McDowell, Chaplain Ray and Dr. and Mrs. Howard Hendricks. These men and women will be sharing what the Bible says as to the how and why of prayer. They'll also share their own personal experiences of the times of victory, frustration and confusion, so be sure to join us. Everyone is invited.

Controversy

of a growth management philosophy and policy for the town of Andover. It appears that Susan Poore strongly endorses the development of Andover with the lowest residential density as may be possible the report states.

It goes on to note that her feelings indicate that the town should do everything possible within its means to retard growth, since she equates population growth with making Andover a bigger community, and increased costs and services to go along with such growth.

Kear is described by Clark as "bright, aggressive and hard-working" with considerable experience in issues of community development and planning who sees good development as "complying to all town rules and regulations, occurs outside wetland areas, provides for proper construction of municipal facilities, esthetic improvements and other amenities. Homes constructed free of ill effects of poor or inadequate drainage, shoddy construction, non-compliance with building codes. He also sees good development as the development of land to its highest and best use and which enables the developer to make a profit."

While other personnel within the community development department are in conflict, it appears that the difference was between Mrs. Poore and Kear.

Clark's report notes "What is the dynamic byplay which came into being between these individuals and the respective boards or sources of authority which they represented?....the fact that Susan Poore appears to be contrary minded to development and that Rhys Kear sees his role as providing for efficient development, such viewpoints are in significant opposition to each other."

The report notes, "...It seems that Mrs. Poore views of major significance and importance the development of policy and initiative in land use issues. Working as a single selectman, without significant involvement from the balance of the board, Mrs. Poore found attempting to deal with Rhys Kear and the differences in their viewpoint exceedingly frustrating."

The report deals with an examination of personalities and in the case of Kear, with his involvement with the public, department heads, boards and commissions.

While granting that the administrator is a strong-willed individual and that at times his defense of personal observations and viewpoints were viewed as abrasive, Clark found that Kear had been able to work with all individuals over a period of time. In some cases justification was found for complaints about the director's behavior and demeanor before town boards, while on other occasions such feelings were fostered by differing points of view or interpretation on the part of department heads or board members.

Differences of opinion, strong at times between former Building Inspector William Means and Kear were smoothed out prior to the former's departure. Kear working with DPW Director Robert McQuade was a subject of two strong-minded people eventually being able to work together in specific problems, or at least getting their points across to each other, the report indicates.

As for his appearance before boards and committees giving the impression of being discourteous, Clark said he found no malice intended in such actions, simply a frustration on the part of the administrator working on difficult municipal problems.

With regard to malfeasance in office, Clark examines several complaints contained in a memo, and finds that there are no grounds. The manager found that on one occasion, dealing with gravel removal at the Andover Country Club development, Kear did mistakenly interpret bylaws, a matter which was resolved through consultation with the manager, counsel, building inspectors and planning board members.

Rabies Clinics

The Bulger Animal Hospital will sponsor two rabies clinics this spring for the convenience of area pet owners. Clinics will be held Saturday, March 21, and Saturday, May 9, from 9 a.m. to noon at the old North Andover Center Fire Station.

The cost is $4 per animal and is for both dogs and cats. The vaccine for cats lasts one year and should be repeated annually. The dog vaccine should be given to puppies at 3 to 6 months of age and then repeated shortly after one year of age. The vaccine given at that time is then good for three years, as is the vaccine which is given to older dogs.

Cats should be transported in a box or a pillow case while dogs should have a choke collar and a sturdy leash.

The clinics are open to everyone—you do not have to be a North Andover resident.

Mansion Tour

Mrs. Charles Butts, adjunct lecturer at the Boston Museum of Fine Arts will lead a walking tour of China Trade Mansions of Salem, Saturday, March 28. The tour is open to anyone interested, and includes viewing the Pierce-Nichols House, Pingree House and a third mansion.

With respect to conflict of interest violations, Clark said there was never at any time any evidence of Kear or building inspectors receiving gratuity or any other type considerations for services performed in reviewing or granting permits.

As for reports to Mrs. Poore from departmental personnel, Clark found such action to be insubordinate and indicated a reprimand had been issued in the case of a building inspector and a clerk who had reported findings and observations to Mrs. Poore. The clerk was informed of the chain of command approach to such matters with the notation that a repeat of such activity could lead to dismissal.

Clark notes, "Expressing one's concerns to a selectman is not acceptable. This has the effect, whether intended or not, of introducing political pressure as a means of increasing the ability of one to impose his particular viewpoints. Involvement of the selectmen is as unacceptable and inappropriate as the director or anyone else within the department ignoring

ANDOVER TOWN ELECTION

nonpartisan voting information

The League of Women Voters of Andover commends all the candidates for their willingness to serve the Town of Andover in these difficult times. Therefore, the League is pleased to present this local election information to the voters of Andover.

This candidate sheet is just one of many voter service activities sponsored by the League of Women Voters to promote informed and active participation in government. Another voter service activity of the LWV, a local candidates night, will not be held this year because in the one contested election (School Committee) Mr. Giammusso was the only candidate who was able to accept our invitation.

The League of Women Voters is a nonpartisan organization. We never support or oppose any political party or candidate. We may, however, take stands on issues, but only after a thorough study and a consensus of our membership. Members are encouraged, however, to be involved in government and campaigns as individual citizens.

In your role as Town Moderator, how could you encourage more participation from the floor during Town Meeting?

In the last few years I have observed an increasing reluctance on the part of the voters to speak out and to ask questions at Town Meeting. I feel, of course, that more people should attend the annual meeting — the real estate tax is one of the largest expenditures of every household — and they should prepare themselves by attending the open sessions sponsored by the League of Women Voters and reading the newspapers. Perhaps I should speak to this issue at the opening of the meeting

With less money available for school spending, where would you make budget cuts and why?

Under the current circumstances, it is possible that the most viable alternative for a large saving would be in the closing of an elementary school. It would be best if this were not done for two or three years, but doing it now could save staff and programs. I would rather be slightly premature in the closing and maintain the integrity of the educational system.

It is also possible that there will be staff reductions, but I would hope that it would be minimized with most coming from attrition.

It may be necessary to institute a fee system for many activities, but this should be done fairly and with sufficient safeguards for those unable to comply.

With less money available for school spending, where would you make budget cuts and why?

Before there are any major program cuts, I believe that there should be a set of priorities established through the cooperative effort of parents, school committee, the Superintendent, and other town officials. Until a final resolution has been reached by the State Legislature on Proposition 2½, I do not think that any one program or any one part of the school budget should suffer more than any other, but that budget decreases should be spread as equally as possible throughout the whole budget. The Andover School System has taken years to reach its current level of excellence. It should not be devastated, but retained with minimal cuts as possible to meet the requirements of Proposition 2½.

Do you see a need for increased low income housing in Andover? If so, how would you specifically solve this need?

Yes, there is. The Board has done something with the problem through Section 707 and 8. 31 units at present on subsidized rentals. One big problem is acquiring land to build.

The biggest problem at present is elderly housing, with a long waiting list. We expect to start building in early summer on 40 units of elderly and handicapped apartments.

What policies would you support to maintain town services given the constraints of Proposition 2½?

To maintain the current level of services, some possible ways to do this are

- (1) Very conservative approach to capital expenditures, especially those involving long-term borrowing, thus reducing our total debt service
- (2) Realignment of departments for better performance and cost-effectiveness
- (3) Increased user fees, except sewer and water, and the establishment of fees for services now provided free
- (4) Reduction and or elimination of services, loss of which would not affect the public health or welfare

Fortunately for Andover, the financial impact of Proposition 2½ will not be as great as in some other communities. Assuming the law remains in effect, we have about nine months to plan and implement the necessary policies

Chairman Thanked For 'Reason, Sensitivity'

As School Chairman Elaine Viehmann presided over her last session Tuesday night, she was described by others as a woman who had brought "reason" and "sensitivity" to the committee in "troubled" times.

Viehmann served two three-year terms on the committee, and has been chairman for the past two years.

Committeeman Joseph Finn, second to Viehmann in seniority, credited her with "sensitivity and perception," and said her presence had been "an asset to us all particularly in your early years when the school were under traumatic and troubled times."

He said she could take memories of good things she had accomplished, and wished her well in her "retirement."

"I can honestly say after serving with you for five years, you will be missed."

President Jim Redmond of the Andover Education Association said Viehmann had provided an "air of consistency to the school committee," and thanked her "for helping our situation in the town."

He said the atmosphere is now "much more pleasant and compatible with the good education that we try to have in the town of Andover."

Supt. Kenneth R. Seibert noted that Viehmann had arrived on the scene at a time when "public school education in Andover had a very dark cloud hanging over it." He said her "humaneness and sensitivity, as well as objectivity," had helped to "bring the system back again."

He said she had also helped elevate the relationship of the school committee to the educators by putting it on a policy level.

"You always got to the level of issues, not personalities," he said. "We can't convey enough thanks."

Viehmann in turn wished the committee "a really successful time" in the "big job ahead." She said she hopes everyone in the community "realizes the enormity of the job" and will be supportive as the committee goes about the budget cuts toward 2 1/2.

Viehmann said that now that she can clean out the mountain of school committee paperwork in her den, she will have a place to hang the plaque presented to her Tuesday night.

Digital's Plans For Andover Expanded

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Digital Equipment Corp. would like to build a multi-million dollar plant on a 52-acre parcel on Frontage Road — creating three Digital plants in Andover — but its latest proposal presents town officials with a dilemma.

The town would welcome the lower tax rate and job opportunities the new plant could bring Andover. But the project would require rezoning the parcel and, perhaps more significantly, abandoning the requirements of the town's master sewer plan.

Annual Election Monday

Andover's annual town election, with only a single contest, will be held Monday from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m., at the Dunn Gymnasium, Andover High School.

Town Clerk Elden R. Salter expects the lightest turnout in years for the election which finds Michael R. Giammusso of Summer St., facing Edward I. Kaufman of Myles Circle for a three-year term on the school committee. The winner will replace Elaine Viehmann, school board chairman, who is not seeking re-election.

Donn B. Byrne will become the new selectmen filling the vacancy created by Chairman James Abramson not seeking a return to another three-year term. Byrne, who has served as chairman of the Finance Committee the past two years is unopposed.

Also unopposed as they seek re-election are Moderator James D. Doherty and Andover Housing Authority member Thomas P. Eldred.

Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, chairman of the Industrial Development Commission, told the selectmen Monday night that there are "very few" sites left in Andover that are suitable for industrial development, forcing Digital to choose the Frontage Road site despite the problems it faces there.

"Everybody wants to come to Andover," Spiegel said. "Andover is fast becoming the jewel in the crown of economic development in Massachusetts, and we are very rapidly running out of land."

The company is currently completing construction of the 2,400-square foot Polaroid building on a 37-acre site in West Andover's Industrial Tech Park. Digital also plans to build two 300,000-square foot buildings on an adjacent 123-acre parcel in Tech Park.

Plans for the former Polaroid site — which Digital calls "Andover One" — call for the building to be operational within a year. Plans for the larger Tech Park site ("Andover Two") are still in the preliminary stages.

If the Frontage Road site — "Andover Three" — is developed, Digital would have buildings totalling 1.24 million square feet in town, and would employ between 2,500 and 3,500 people, according to Richard Berube, public relations representative for Digital.

Neal Hannon, director of real estate acquisitions for Digital, explained that the 52-acre parcel now being studied is part of a 140-acre site owned by Andover developer Yvon Cormier. The site is currently zoned for residential use.

Digital has already identified the user group that would move onto the site. Hannon said: the field service manufacturing organization, in charge of the "delicate and sophisticated spare parts" for Digital's products.

Offices and manufacturing operations would probably be established in three buildings on the site, totalling 400,000 square feet, and could become the "world headquarters" for the group, he added.

The number of employees at the site is unclear at this point, Berube indicated. Digital proposes to build a $200,000-$250,000 sewage pumping station to service the Frontage Road site. The pumping station would include improvements to 700 feet of town sewer main on Lovejoy Road.

The most likely alternative to a pumping station, a gravity sewer system, would cost more than $1 million, Berube indicated, and would be difficult to accomplish because it would mean crossing town lines into Wilmington and possibly Tewksbury.

But a pumping station would be in violation of the town's master sewer plan, which does not encompass the site, and requires that a developer install a gravity system.

"The pumping station would destroy the master sewer planning of recent years," Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark explained Friday. "If we permit one pumping station, then anybody and everybody could put in a station, and tie into the system."

The Digital proposal would also require rezoning the parcel from residential to the type of industrial zone used at Tech Park, Spiegel said. He suggested that, rather than spot zoning the parcel, all of the land in the area "from the Tewksbury line to Dascomb Road" be rezoned for industrial use.

The area might then become "a mini Tech Center," Spiegel said.

Selectman Susan Poore told the Digital officials that their proposal presents the town with "some very tough issues."

"You are already a most welcome member of our community," Poore said. But by proposing to work around the town's master sewer plan, the company "puts us in a difficult policy bind," she added.

Poore also pointed out that the area was intentionally zoned for residential use to avoid "the Route 128 syndrome of row upon row of commercial, industrial buildings" in Andover as viewed from Route 93.

Selectmen Chairman James Abramson responded that the pumping station seemed to present a greater problem than the rezoning issue. While rezoning the area "could be good for Andover," he said, "we should not be willing to scrap the master sewer plan at the first opportunity for the town to make a quick buck."

The manager indicated last week that there are clearly arguments on both sides of the question.

There are some homeowners in the area who can be expected to oppose the plan, Clark explained. "But there is already industry near the Frontage Road site, and from a community-wide standpoint, the town may wish to rezone the land, both for the benefit to the tax base, and for the employees who could work there."

The town needs new industry to "maintain the tax base," the manager said, and the Frontage Road site is "one of the last major undeveloped areas that could be converted for industrial use."

The "very difficult issues" raised by the Digital proposal will ultimately require a town meeting decision, Clark concluded.

The selectmen authorized town officials to work with Digital's planners to review the company's plans, and to seek possible solutions to the sewerage and zoning questions raised by Andover Three.

Drugs Lead To Expulsion

One junior high youth has been excluded from school for a year, and seven others placed on probation, following their involvement with a new drug called "black beauty."

Supt. Kenneth R. Seitert said this week that eight youths—both boys and girls—were found on school grounds during school hours, some under the influence of the drug and some with the pills in their possession.

Seitert said his biggest concern is that youngsters know the drug is unpredictable and can cause "extreme kinds of reactions."

"I've tried to impress upon them," he said, "that in taking this, they're dealing with some very serious things."

He said the sale of the drug to the 13 and 14-year-olds is under investigation by the police department, and that all of the parents of the youths involved have met with the administration and school committee, per school policy.

Seitert said that what amazes him the most is that youngsters "who would not consider using another kid's toothbrush, will buy and ingest an unknown thing that could send them to Mars."

He said he is urging parents to talk to kids and kids to talk to kids "to prevent any further incidents."

The ninth grader who was excluded from school, Seitert said, can petition in January 1982 to return.

New Postal Supervisors Named

Two new supervisory employees have recently begun assignments at the Andover Post Office. The two are Linda D'Ambrosio, supervisor of mails and delivery, and Robert Dixon, superintendent of postal operations.

D'Ambrosio has worked for the postal service since 1974, first as a part-time employee in Woburn and Burlington, and since 1977 as a full-time career employee in Reading and Woburn. She has experience as a clerk, LSM (letter sorter machine) operator, and as an acting supervisor.

Since Feb. 21, she has been in charge of Andover's carrier force.

A 1973 graduate of Boston College, D'Ambrosio holds a bachelor of arts degree in education. She is a graduate of Melrose High School, and has worked as a substitute teacher in Melrose and Wakefield.

D'Ambrosio, a Wakefield resident, is currently serving as chairman of the Middlesex-Essex Equal Opportunity Advisory Committee.

Dixon was transferred to his new position on March 7 from the Lowell Post Office, where he served as supervisor of mails. He has been a Postal Service employee since 1968, working full-time since 1970.

Linda D'Ambrosio

Dixon has experience as a clerk and as a supervisor examination specialist, conducting all types of postal examinations. Before joining the Postal Service, he was a federal employee for 11 years.

Robert Dixon

A Lowell native, Dixon attended the Lowell public schools and joined the United States Marine Corps in 1949. He lost both legs while serving in Korea.

Dixon lives in Lowell with his wife Gladys, and two of their six children.

How we improved the 1980 Rabbit Diesel:

Introducing the 1981 Rabbit Diesel.

We never seem to just let well enough alone. Our 1981 model actually has an engine that's even bigger than last year's which means you'll get a more powerful car, with better acceleration and passing power. Plus the kind of astonishing mileage and superb comfort our Rabbit tempted you with last year. In fact, EPA estimated 42 mpg, 56 mpg highway estimate. (Use "estimated mpg" for comparison. Mpg varies with speed, trip length, weather. Actual highway mpg will probably be less.)

An Election Reminder

Andover's annual town election takes place Monday under the threat of the lightest turnout in years.

There is only a single contest on the ballot this year, as two office-holders seek re-election unopposed, and a vacancy on the board of selectmen is filled by a candidate with no opposition.

Two candidates vie for the vacant school committee spot.

There are 16,000-plus registered voters eligible to participate in Monday's election. The turnout percentage is expected to be the lowest in years, with a 25 per cent participation considered outstanding.

It is indeed unfortunate.

As an indication of what can be expected Monday, the annual candidates' coffee conducted by the Andover League of Women Voters last Saturday at the Andover Savings Bank attracted little response.

It is difficult to determine why the interest in serving in municipal government has reached such a low ebb.

There remain important decisions to be made at both the town and school level, particularly this year in the face of Proposition 2½ and its implications on the town's budget planning.

In the area of schools, there are new buildings to be considered. Even though construction is in the hands of a building committee, the school board itself will soon be involved in the overseeing of the use of the new facilities and their proper introduction into the town's overall educational program.

But, only two Andover residents have seen fit to offer their services to the town, hopeful of involvement in the educational planning and policy process.

While there is a dearth of interest in the town's political arena this year, it would be even more alarming if those who have displayed an interest were accorded little in the way of response on the part of the electorate.

It is for that reason that Andover residents are urged to take a moment sometime on Monday between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. and head toward the Dunn gymnasium at Andover High School and exercise their franchise as a tribute to those who have displayed an interest in serving the town.

And, while on the subject of elective office, it is appropriate to express thanks to Chairman Jim Abramson of the board of selectmen and Chairman Elaine Viehmann of the school committee for their service to the town.

Both have brought to the respective offices valuable leadership, sometimes under difficult circumstances. Andover is indebted to such people for their willingness to serve and assume the responsibilities incumbent on public office holders.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — March 1906

Dr. James Lyman Belknap, son of Lyman A. Belknap of this town, was among the officers of the American cruiser squadron, under Admiral Sigsbee, who were presented to Pope Pius at Rome last week. The squadron is now at Piraeus, Greece.

Last Saturday evening Mr. Howard Hulbert of Seoul, Korea gave a most interesting address to Abbot Academy upon the present condition of affairs in Korea in respect to Japan's encroachments upon the independence of the "Hermit Kingdom," and upon the history of the country and the characteristics of the people.

On next Monday the annual town meeting and election of town officers will be held at the town house and if the present indications can be taken as a criterion, it will be one of the quietest and most harmonious days in the history of Andover. There is an unusually small number of new candidates out for the vacancies which occur in the line of office, and in consequence the political pot has been only simmering during the past few weeks.

About 100 persons assembled in the town hall last Sunday to listen to the addresses on the temperance questions given by several prominent local men. The meeting is an annual affair and is given for the purpose of increasing the feeling for a strong no license vote at the coming election. The audience was composed largely of ladies who are interested in the question and who, as one speaker said, could exert much influence over the men in casting their ballots and in keeping the town clear of the liquor nuisance.

Walter I. Morse has purchased the hardware business of Henry McLawlin and the latter will retire after having conducted the store for the past 25 years. Mr. Morse has been a clerk in the store for the past ten years and during that time the business has grown rapidly and is now one of the most important in the town.

50 Years Ago — March 1931

Two little girls plunged through thin ice of Shawsheen river near Red Spring road, late Thursday afternoon. One of them was saved and the other's body lies trapped beneath the ice. Six Andover workmen, engaged in digging at the town's sand pit nearby, plunged through the ice in attempting the rescue.

A meeting to give prospective candidates for town offices a chance to meet the voters, sponsored by the League of Women Voters and held in the town hall Tuesday evening, failed to be of any great value owing to the absence of many of the candidates and the small attendance, numbering in all less than 70.

One of the most gratifying and salutary developments during the last few years has been the keen interest which the women of this and other communities are manifesting in connection with the administration of local government. The fact that the modern housewife finds adequate time to further acquaint herself with local administrative problems in addition to caring for her household responsibilities, unmistakably indicates her accomplishments in the direction of domestic life.

The report of the Finance Committee reveals that Andover cannot avoid a higher tax rate this year. In order to make the increase as little as possible, therefore, the voters must show conservatism in the matter of appropriations at the coming town meeting.

Eleven of Andover's policemen in addition to the usual two officers are on duty at Shawsheen at 6:30 a.m., 12 M. and 5:30 p.m. armed with tear bombs and gas pistols in order to be prepared for any contingency which may result as a result of the strike of textile workers in Lawrence. Up to this time there has been no disturbance.

25 Years Ago — March 1956

Politics took the spotlight this week as 15 candidates raced down to the wire seeking four top town jobs. Monday's election, with polls open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., is expected to draw a throng of voters whose interest has been whipped up by vigorous campaigns for selectmen, board of public works and school committee.

The school committee has approved plans for the $980,000 South school. At a meeting Monday noon, the committee gave its approval to the plans after conferring with members of the architectural firm, Perley F. Gilbert and associates. Representatives of the Finance Committee, Taxpayers association and the Bradley PTA were at the meeting.

Budgets and special articles totalling $2,251,283 have been recommended by the Finance Committee. The figure includes a $1 across-the-board pay raise for town employees and does not include funds for a 48-hour week for firefighters.

Samples of water runoff on Osgood street will be taken as soon as possible to determine if there is any sewage seeping into the overflow. The Board of Public Works has been concerned with the condition, pointing out that water regularly overflows onto the road.

Edmund Kelleher, town moderator of Ipswich and an ardent opponent of town manager, will be one of two speakers appearing at tonight's debate on town manager at 8 in Central auditorium. Selectman J. Everett Collins said Wednesday morning that he would be the other "opposed" speaker. Wallace Brimer, a member of the town manager committee and James F. Shurtleff, city manager of Medford, will speak in favor of the plan.

10 Years Ago — March 1971

A stunning upset marked the annual town election in Andover Monday as Dr. Francis E. Griggs, making his first try at political office, topped the school committee race and ballot. Dr. Griggs, a professor at Merrimack College, defeated Mrs. Virginia Cole who was seeking reelection to a three-year term on the board.

The increase in the 1971 tax rate can be held to no more than $4 if the recommendations of the Finance Committee are followed. The Finance Committee report in the mails to all residents of the community gives its recommendations on adoption of the annual municipal and school budgets, along with special articles appearing in the warrant.

Sgt. Hector Pattulo has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant in the police department by Town Manager J. Maynard Austin. The appointment will be effective April 1 and is conditional on town meeting approval. Town Manager Austin told the selectmen Tuesday night that it was his intent to increase the size of the police department and to provide a lieutenant on more than the single day shift.

Selectman Robert A. Watters was re-elected chairman of the board at an organizational meeting of the board Tuesday night, following Monday's annual town election. Watters was the unanimous choice to continue as chairman, a post he has held for the past year.

Only praise follows in the wake of the "Seatrains" rock concert which the Teenage Adult Collaborative sponsored for Andover young people Sunday at the high school gymnasium. The audience of 800 showed complete enthusiasm for Seatrain's music, and the nationally-known five-member rock group responded to their appreciation with long encores, and later said "Andover was as good an audience as any we've had anywhere. Any time."

Confidential memo warns
El Salvador needs moneyBy JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WASHINGTON -- There is some grim news from El Salvador. It's stamped "confidential," but the American people are entitled to know the truth.

The U.S. embassy in El Salvador has warned that, without massive economic aid, the survival of the Salvadoran government is "severely imperiled." The message came from the acting U.S. ambassador, Frederick Chapin, in an urgent, confidential cable to the State Department.

He reported that up to $40 million in U.S. aid would be needed immediately if the Salvadoran government was to survive the next six to nine months. "I am convinced that the most urgent need is for $22 million to $40 million," Chapin cabled.

But that was three weeks ago. In the meantime, a special team has been in El Salvador assessing that nation's needs. Now the embassy reports that the price for saving the moderate government has skyrocketed. The regime will need $260 million in external financing to keep the economy afloat.

The latest embassy cable warns that even the most optimistic Salvadoran leaders predict that "unless political stability is brought about soon, there is little chance the current government can survive the next three to six months."

President Reagan will have no problems, we should add, with military aid. This is because of a little-noticed clause in the foreign assistance laws which allows a president, in an emergency, to send as much as $50 million in military arms to a foreign country without congressional approval.

But there is a disturbing echo of the past in this emergency slush fund. In 1965, when the fund was bigger, President Lyndon Johnson drew hundreds of millions from it to expand the war in Vietnam secretly.

Meanwhile, Secretary of State Alexander Haig has been up to Capitol Hill to give the Senate Armed Services Committee a secret briefing on the situation in El Salvador.

Apparently, he figured the tough talk at the meeting would come from him. He told the Senators that more American military advisers would be sent to El Salvador. And unless the bloodshed there is brought to a quick end by international mediation, he declared, U.S. military aid to the junta could escalate.

But the senators had some strong words of their own to throw back at Haig. They gave him a message to take back to the White House: Any sign of U.S. military intervention in El Salvador would endanger the Pentagon's budget. The Congress, they said, simply would not abide any attempt to use American troops to put out a Latin American brushfire.

Our committee sources say the senators weren't bluffing. And their warning had some added weight: It came from Republicans as well as Democrats.

CREDIT CARD SUBSIDY -- Part of President Reagan's anti-inflation strategy is to cut back on the use of credit cards. The easy credit encourages people to spend money they don't have.

Congress could help curtail credit by changing laws that encourage consumers to buy on credit. The regulations allow the costs of credit card purchases to be passed on equally to all customers. This penalizes those who pay cash.

But the multimillion-dollar credit card industry is quietly lobbying for an extension of the current laws. Three of the lobbyists who have been talking to the Senate Banking Committee, incidentally, are former staff members of the committee.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board has summed up the case for revising the law in a letter to Sen. Jake Garn, R-Utah, chairman of the banking committee. "The credit card industry, in our view," says the letter, "is capable of prospering without this kind of federal protections."

ARAFAT THE INFIDEL? -- Iran's Ayatollah Khomeini has a low opinion of Palestine Liberation Organization leader Yassir Arafat. The pistol-packing Palestinian may be in good standing with fanatics around the world, but Khomeini doesn't think he is fanatical enough.

The ayatollah would like to boot Arafat out of the PLO and replace him with an Islamic firebrand more like himself.

Arafat, according to our sources, isn't devout enough to suit the ayatollah. Khomeini insists that Arafat's guerrillas should pray five times a day. Even worse, a few Christian Arabs have been admitted to the PLO; Khomeini wants them purged.

The ayatollah would also like to change the PLO's charter to make it a religious rather than a political organization.

HEADLINES AND FOOTNOTES -- Is the Labor Department's Women's Bureau sexist? Currently it is staffed by 45 women and four men ... Rep. Jim Jones, D-Okla., chairman of the House Budget Committee, has this sign on his desk: "The buck slows down here." ... Internal Revenue Service agents are now under orders to raid the cash registers of small businessmen who are suspected of tax delinquency ... Energy Secretary James Edwards apparently believes President Reagan means it when he says he'll abolish the Energy Department. Edwards rented a modest townhouse near Washington and signed only a two-year lease.

Selected League All-Star

Tom MacDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Royal MacDonald, 5 Exeter Way, Andover, a junior at Brooks School, North Andover, has been chosen for the first team All Stars in the Eberhardt Division of the Private School Hockey League.

Tom, who led the team in scoring this season, is a center, and will be playing in the Hockey Night in Boston tournament at Merrimack College, March 21-24.

The Andover youngster scored 25 points in league play and had 15 goals and 20 assists for 35 points in overall season competition. At the center position, MacDonald won 60 per cent of the 500 faceoffs in which he was involved.

He is described as a good, unselfish two-way player and a playmaker who would prefer an assist to a goal in order to help the team.

All-Stars Have Mixed Results

A pair of Andover All-Stars' basketball teams enjoyed mixed success while competing in three separate tournaments last weekend.

The Andover All Stars sixth grade team opened play in the double-elimination Sausage Ironworks Tournament with a solid 43-30 conquest of Everett.

Theat victory advanced Andover into the second round, where they were scheduled to face Lynn Cobbett this past Monday night.

The Andover All-Stars seventh grade squad didn't fare as well, dropping decisions in both the Greater-Boston Pre-Teen Tournament and the Athol YMCA Invitational Tournament within a four-hour span.

Andover conducted a game-long seesaw battle with Belmont in the Pre-Teen tourney at Somerville High, eventually coming out on the short end of a 44-40 score.

Immediately following that game the locals jumped in cars and traveled halfway across the state to Athol, where the somewhat weary crew squandered a five-point halftime lead enroute to a closer-than-it-looks 49-32 setback to the Fitchburg All-Stars.

Andover, 43-30

The Andover sixth graders never trailed in their victory over Everett at the Veterans Memorial School gym, grabbing a 9-4 first period lead and stretching it to 27-14 at halftime and 37-24 after three quarters.

Everett made one run at the locals, closing to 15-12 midway through the second stanza, but Andover employed a balanced attack to pull away for good.

Mike Lane and John Perry combined for seven first quarter points, while the second period outburst was led by Chris Poor, Matt Geiger and Perry who netted four points apiece.

Ten of the 12 Andover players got into the scoring act, led by John Perry with 9 points, Steve Redgate 6 and Matt Geiger 6.

Mike Lane, Kurt Burzlaff, Tim Boudreau and Chris Poor hooped 4 points each, while single baskets were contributed by Rich Bourdelais, Bill O'Brien and Mark Geiger.

Burzlaff, Bourdelais and Redgate were strong off the boards, and solid defensive performances were turned in by John Twomey, Dave Vickers, Poor and Perry.

Dave Fialli was game-high scorer for Everett with 12 points.

Belmont, 44-40

Andover and Belmont were never more than a few points apart the entire game, but in the end the winners took advantage of several defensive lapses by the locals and some hot outside shooting to prevail.

Joe Hart pumped in eight first quarter points, while Chris Bartley added a bucket and Larry Aiello two free throws, as Andover inched ahead 12-10.

The lead changed hands four times in the second quarter and the teams left at halftime locked in a 20-20 tie.

Hart poured through 10 more points in the third quarter, while Scott Wilkins added a basket and Beau Jones two free throws, but still Andover couldn't shake Belmont and pulled ahead only 34-33.

The Andover attack sputtered in the fourth quarter with poor shot selection in the final two minutes compounding the problem and Belmont was able to hang tough for the victory.

Joe Hart emerged as game-high scorer with 20 points while Steve Gemmell, Scott Wilkins and Chris Bartley netted 4 points each.

John Perry deposited one basket and chipping in a pair of free throws apiece were Beau Jones, Rob Barnard and Larry Aiello.

Wilkins turned in an all-around hustling performance, as did Jones, while Rob DiTroia, Scott Kelly and Doug Rotondi were other Andover seventh grade stalwarts.

Fitchburg, 49-32

Eighty miles and 90 minutes later Andover was back on the court in Athol, where Fitchburg snapped a 24-24 third quarter deadlock by erupting for 25 points over the final seven minutes.

The final score is somewhat deceiving, however, as Fitchburg's first unit remained in most of the way and piled up the final nine points without rebuttal from the tired Andover crew.

The locals started strongly, bolting to a 12-3 first quarter lead as Joe Hart netted seven points and Beau Jones, four.

Fitchburg's Kevin Rice heated up from the outside in the second stanza, swishing three bombs from downtown, and Mike Kozogles beat the halftime buzzer with a layup to slice the Andover lead to 20-15.

Russ Cormier worked inside for the first three buckets of the third quarter, giving Fitchburg its first lead (21-20), but Andover came back on baskets by Larry Aiello and Beau Jones to tie it 24-24.

The score was tied twice in the final quarter, 26-26 and 28-28, but Kozogles began working free inside and penetrated for five baskets as Fitchburg steadily pulled away.

Meanwhile, Andover experienced its second ice-cold fourth quarter of the long afternoon, managing only four points over the last four minutes.

Fitchburg's Mike Halstead hit a blistering 7-for-9 at the free throw line down the stretch, helping build the final margin to 17 points.

Joe Hart once again led Andover with 11 points. Beau Jones tossed through 6, John Perry 5, Rob DiTroia and Scott Wilkins 3 each, Chris Bartley 2 and Larry Aiello 2.

Kozogles emerged as game-high scorer with 15 points. Halstead added 11, Rice 9 and Cormier 7.

Hawks Halt Lakers Streak

The Hawks upset the Lakers, 36-33, putting an end to their dreams of a perfect season, and the Bullets drilled the Kings, 56-34, in last week's Andover Youth Basketball League Senior Division twin-bill at the East Junior High gym.

The Lakers, who have already clinched the Senior Division regular-season championship, had been the last remaining undefeated team in any division of the AYBL.

Hawks, 36-33

The Hawks made good use of the free throw line enroute to their triumph, hitting 12-of-24 charities while the Lakers could manage just 3-of-5 at the foul stripe.

The Lakers, whose seven-game win streak was snapped, inched ahead 10-8 after one quarter and 20-15 at halftime.

Gerry Ahern's eight third period points cut the Hawks' deficit to 31-28, and the Lakers turned ice-cold in the final quarter when they managed just a pair of free throws by Brian Sheehey.

Ahern sparked the Hawks' offense with 13 points, hitting 7-of-12 foul shots, while Tim Perry pocketed 9 points, Mike Coelho 8, Tom Novelline 4, Barry Brussard a free throw and Harvey Eckoff a free throw.

Sheehey was game-high marksman for the Lakers with 14 points, Alan Pelletier tossed through 9, Chris Marcella 8 and Terry Flynn 2.

Lisa Marcella also played well for the Lakers.

attack for the second-place Bullets, leading eight players into the scoring column and three into double figures with 14 points.

Tom Moon chipped in 13, Terry Burke 12, Robby Pauline 6, Dean Lockwood 5, James Fearing 2, Mike O'Connell 2 and Steve Zaines 2.

Eddie Melia was the big gun for the Kings with 11 points, while Sean Trombley contributed 7, Jim Marocco and Brandon Bachner 5 each, Matt Ostrowski 4, and Kevin Bardsley a pair of free throws.

Harvard Sweeps Pair

By Rick Harrison

Harvard took control in the Andover Youth Basketball League Intermediate Division last week, sweeping a pair of games to grab a commanding two-game lead over struggling Dartmouth and surging North Carolina State in action at the West Junior High and West Elementary School gyms.

The Crimson, now 8-1 overall, built up a commanding halftime lead and then withstood a furious third quarter rally enroute to a 39-26 conquest of Dartmouth in their first-place showdown.

Harvard followed up that victory with a solid 34-16 thrashing of Holy Cross the next night.

North Carolina State, stretching its win streak through five consecutive contests, also swept a pair with a tight 29-26 triumph over Boston College and a 28-21 decision against Villanova.

Boston College earned a split by pounding Dartmouth, 42-20, and Villanova chalking up a low-scoring 17-8 win over Holy Cross in its other game.

Harvard, 39-26

Harvard, whose only loss of the season was to Dartmouth, avenged that setback with a convincing 39-26 romp over the Big Green in their second meeting.

The Crimson inched ahead 6-2 in the opening period, then stretched the advantage to 16-4 at halftime.

Up to that point the game was reminiscent of their first encounter, when Harvard took an 11-4 halftime lead but crumbled under the weight of a 27-point second half by Dartmouth.

Larry Aiello and Steve Gemmel turned red hot for the Big Green in the third quarter, pouring through 11 and 6 points respectively as Dartmouth cut the gap to 27-21 after closing within two points (23-21) late in the period.

However, the fourth quarter belonged to Harvard as Bob Manning, Steve Redgate and Beau Jones enabled the Crimson to steadily pull away.

John Perry led the balanced attack for Harvard, which had only six players present, as he pumped in 11 points.

Steve Redgate and Beau Jones contributed 8 points each, Manning 6, Jay Trepanier 4 and Chris Nelson 2.

For Dartmouth, which had all 11 players on hand, Larry Aiello was game-high with 15 points.

Steve Gemmel pocketed 6, Dave Noyes 3 and Matt Geiger 2.

John Twomey chipped in a hustling defensive effort.

N.C. State, 29-26

The red-hot Wolfpack put seven different players into the scoring column, and broke open a tight game against Boston College with an 11-6 fourth quarter spurt.

Rob DiTroia shared game-high honors with 12 points for N.C. State, which was fresh off a pair of one-point wins over Holy Cross (19-18) and Dartmouth (26-25).

DiTroia delivered seven of his markers in the crucial final period, while Mike DiMeo and Tim Higgins both finished with four points including key fourth quarter baskets.

Rich Bourdelais also netted 4 points. Tom Deleire and Scott Powers had fieldgoals, and Mike Burke swished a free throw.

Division scoring leader Joe Hart fired through 12 points for the Eagles, Eric Frank and John Tateosian hooped 4 each, and single baskets were contributed by Lydia Wise, Peter Derba and James Flowers.

Jim Baxter and Scott Woodruff also played well for BC.

Both teams finished with 13 fieldgoals, but the Wolfpack enjoyed a decisive 3-0 edge at the foul line.

Villanova, 17-8

Villanova and Holy Cross played it close to the vest with the Wildcats taking a 7-0 first quarter lead and using an 8-2 third period spree to break the game open.

John Nuzzo was the big man for Villanova with 9 points. Jon Yezerki pumped through 4, and other buckets were delivered by Chris Poor and Chuck Faust.

John Twomey and Paul Valcourt added hustling defensive efforts.

Eric Goodman and Chris Colsia tossed in the only Crusaders' fieldgoals, while Kurt Burzlaff and Andy Lascher converted a pair of foul shots each.

Others playing well for The Cross were Russ Lamontagne and Jon Daly.

Harvard 34-16

Pesky Holy Cross and Harvard were locked in an 8-8 standoff after one quarter, but the Crimson outscored HC 17-1 over the middle two periods to solidify their hold on first place.

Beau Jones and John Perry made the most offensive noise for Harvard, popping in 11 and 10 points respectively, while Steve Redgate added 6 points and Bob Manning 4.

Chris Nelson added a first period fieldgoal and Jay Trepanier converted a second quarter free throw, to complete the Crimson assault.

Kyle Marcella and Matt Dorsey were other Harvard hustlers.

Chris Colsia stuffed 7 points, Andy Lascher 4, Kurt Burzlaff 3, and Stu Leinson 2 for Holy Cross.

N.C. State, 28-21.

The Wolfpack continued to roll, bolting to a comfortable 17-4 halftime lead over Villanova and coasting home from there.

Villanova, which handed North Carolina State its last defeat (33-16), cut its deficit to seven points with a 10-4 third period burst. The rivals then broke even, 7-7, in the final session.

Once again Rob DiTroia powered the victors with 10 points, but six other players contributed as Tom Deleire netted 6, Tim Higgins 3, Rich Bourdelais 3, Mike DiMeo 2, Mike Burke 2 and Jackie Dalton 2.

Jon Yezerki shared game-high scoring honors with 10 points for the Wildcats. John Nuzzo hooped 5, Chris Poor 3, Pat Flemin 2 and Mark Geiger, a free throw.

John Di Iorio of Andover, a senior at Governor Dummer Academy, won a varsity letter on GDA's outstanding basketball team this season. The GDA team finished the league with a 15-0 record, winning the ISL North Division, but then lost to Brooks 59-56 in the New England Class C Championship game. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Di Iorio.

Boston College, 42-20

Joe Hart was a one-man wrecking crew, pumping in a single-game, season-high 22 points, as BC became the first team to surpass 40 points this season (Dartmouth and Harvard both reached 39).

Dartmouth had the early lead, 6-4, but

Karate Classes At YMCA

Members of the Andover-North Andover Y who chance to walk by the gym on any Tuesday or Thursday evening between 7 and 9 p.m. may be startled by loud yells coming from inside. A quick check however, will assure that all is under control and that the noises (called Kihaps), are just one of the training tactics taught at the Y's Tang Soo Do (Korean Karate) class.

Students from teenage through adult study all aspects of this martial art: forms, fighting, self-defense and breaking, to develop mental concentration as well as physical conditioning.

Qualified black belts provide instruction at each class at a very reasonable cost to Y members as well as non-members.

This program, under the direction of American Tang Soo Do Association president, Richard Byrne, is taught by second degree black belt Mike Fallon and first Dan Laura Nephew. Both instructors have previous teaching experience and have gained recognition in New England tournament competition. Fallon has a fine reputation in the light weight black belt men's fighting ring, and Mrs. Nephew is currently New England women's black belt fighting champion.

A new and proud addition to this program is the junior karate class which meets on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

This class, which is designed to meet the special needs of the younger martial artist from 4 through 12, teaches youngsters coordination, discipline, confidence and self-control along with the skills of self-defense. This group of students practices under the expert instruction of second degree black belt Victoria De Marco. De Marco has combined her extensive teaching background with a successful competitive record in over seven years of experience in the martial arts, and also instructs a program at the Marblehead YMCA.

Both classes in Tang Soo Do are open to visitors and new students are welcome to join at any time.

Pack 76 Planning For Derby

Andover's Cub Pack 76, which meets at the South School, has been busy working on badges and participating in new scouting experiences. The pack is under the leadership of Cubmaster John Barrett, ably assisted by Ron Fee with the assistance of a pack committee headed by chairman Donald Mathias. Pack 76 is comprised of Den 1, Den 3, Den 4, and Den 6, the Webelos' den.

Scouting activities have centered around a monthly theme. "Living and Sharing," November's theme, involved the scouts in making Thanksgiving baskets which were donated to the Andover Council on Aging for the benefit of Andover's elder residents.

During November, a parent/scout game night was organized by den mothers, Betty Barrett, Trish Breazeale, and Claudia Mathias. Together scouts, mothers, fathers, and younger brothers and sisters participated in relay races, bean bag throws, and "walk the turtle" races.

A Blue and Gold banquet was held at the South School cafeteria recently. During the banquet, formal awards were presented.

Presently, the scouts are building their own race car entries, all individual creations, for the Pinewood Derby, which debuts March 25.

"The world around us," April's theme, involves the scouts in a bike-a-thon, proceeds to benefit future scouting activities. Parents are encouraged to ride alongside their sons to support and encourage their worthwhile efforts.

Parents are asked to volunteer their time and services for scouting. Volunteers are always needed.

West Parish Season Perfect

By Rick Harrison

West Parish B capped a perfect 12-0 championship season with a 39-19 triumph over stubborn St. Augustine F last week, capturing the Andover Church Basketball League Intermediate Blue Division title in the process.

The victory made it a clean sweep for West Parish in the ACBL Intermediate Division, with West A (10-10 having snagged the Gold Crown a week earlier.

West B nudged South Church (11-1) by a game, as South dropped a 36-17 decision to West Parish early in the season before racing to 10 straight wins.

In other season-ending Blue games at the West Junior High, West Elementary and South School gyms last week, Ballardvale United B nipped St. Robert's F, 17-16, St. Robert's E trimmed West Parish C, 22-13, Christ Church C dumped St. Augustine E, 30-16, St. Robert's C blasted Ballardvale United A, 52-10, and St. Robert's D edged Christ Church B, 12-10.

Members of the championship West Parish B squad are Kurt Burzlaff, Mike Lane, Matt and Mark Geiger, Bill O'Brien, Robbie Thompson, Jeff Larsen, Robbie DiAdamo, Dave Sullivan and Andy Lee.

Scott Wilkins of South won the division scoring title with 130 points.

West Parish B, 39-19

West B, which averaged over 40 points a game and outscored the opposition by a wide 531-109 margin, raced to a 13-2 first quarter lead against St. Augustine F.

Sean Derrah led a St. Augustine rally in the second period that trimmed the lead to 13-8, but by halftime the champs were ahead 21-12.

Robbie Thompson and Mark Geiger pocketed four points apiece in the third stanza, as West B opened a comfortable 33-16 lead, and Matt Geiger's four points paced the titlists in the final quarter.

A typically well-balanced West B attack featured seven different scorers, with no one in double figures.

Kurt Burzlaff and Matt Geiger shared game-high point honors with eight each, while southpaw guard Mike Lane contributed 7 and Mark Geiger tossed in 6.

Bill O'Brien and Robbie Thompson popped in 4 points apiece, while Robbie DiAdamo added a bucket.

Burzlaff, Matt Geiger and Jeff Larsen were solid rebounders, while Thompson and Lane added their usual hustling defensive performances.

Sean Derrah pumped in 8 points for St. Augustine F, Bob Finneran netted 6, Brian Costello 3 and Brian Hannon 2.

Also trying hard were Andy Hamel, Brendan Lynch, Todd McAllister, Casey Pant and Jason Scarpaci.

Ballardvale B, 17-16

Scott Jangro snared the rebound of a teammate's missed shot and laid the ball up with one second remaining, boosting Ballardvale B to its pulsating 17-16 conquest over hard-luck St. Robert's F.

The game was close from beginning to end, with neither team holding more than a two-point advantage at the quarter breaks and the score tied 10-10 after three periods.

Jangro, one of the top marksmen in the division, flipped through 11 points including five in the pivotal fourth quarter.

Steve Smith chipped in 4 points and Bob Nutter had a big final period fieldgoal for BU.

John Bird and Mike Mooney also played well for United.

Dave McSweeney notched all 8 of his team-high points in the last half for St. Robert's F, while John Slavin and Jim Davis stuffed 4 markers apiece.

Joey Massaro, Sean Melia, Matt McLaughlin and Sam D'Urso were other stalwarts.

St. Robert's E, 22-13

Clinging to a slim one-point advantage entering the fourth period, St. Robert's E rode the hot shooting of Mike Klinger and Chris Koch to its harder-than-it-looks decision over West Parish C.

Klinger dumped in all seven of his points during an 11-3 fourth quarter surge, while Koch swished 4-of-7 free throws.

Tim Smith contributed 7 points, Koch closed with 6 and Raj Sheel delivered a first period fieldgoal.

Other St. Robert's E standouts were Mike French, Scott Plamondon, Mark Hein and Billy Martin.

Mike DiMeo earned game-high point honors for West C with 9, Kurt Nickerson picketed 4, and other steady floor games were added by Sean Dyer, Kyle Marcella, Jeff Patrakis and Mike Ouellette.

Christ Church C, 30-16

Christ C, which completed the campaign tied for third place with a fine 9-3 record, broke its final game wide open with a 14-4 third quarter surge against St. Augustine E at West Junior High.

Dave Pratt powered the C-C charge with 12 points, six of them in that third session, while Bob Beanland and Bart Kalkstein tossed through 6 points each.

Jonathan Pratt hit single baskets in each of the first two periods, John Knowles scored a third quarter bucket, and other solid efforts were by Andy Warren and Dave Lewis.

Steve Surette pumped in 7 points, Mark Russell 5 and Brandon McCue 4 to guide St. Augustine E.

Others playing well were Dave Schwind, Bartley Parker and Jose Guerra.

St. Robert's C, 52-10

Despite the fact it was missing three players, including high-scoring point-guard Matt Gibson (12.1 average), St. Robert's C still managed to breeze past Ballardvale United A at West Elementary.

The winners, who finished at 9-3, bolted

PeeWee A Tewksbury 1 - Andover 1

The PeeWee A's turned in a rather poor performance on Saturday, March 14, against Tewksbury. The A's had beaten Tewksbury in their two earlier meetings this season but came up flat this time. Although several individuals played well, there was little of the team play needed to win.

Tewksbury scored to take a 1-0 lead when the game was only two minutes old. The early deficit seemed to have a very negative effect on the team as they managed only three shots on net in the first period. Mark Neaves, Cort Pomeroy and Timmy Donovan all had good chances stopped by the Tewksbury goalie.

Andover came to life in the second period after Tewksbury had scored three minutes into the period to assume a two goal lead. Jeff McNeil, Georgie Heseltine and Earl Abdo combined with defensemen Paul Gilmartin and David Young to put two minutes of sustained pressure on Tewksbury only to see all their shots stopped. The break came a minute later when Mark Neaves scored from a scramble in front after Matt Shine and David Curtis had kept a series of attempted Tewksbury clearing passes in the offensive zone. David Bartle led the continued Andover pressure after the goal, getting five good shots off before the period ended with Tewksbury leading 2-1.

Tewksbury repeated the pattern set in the first two periods by scoring again early in the third period to take a 3-1 lead. The score seemed to take the starch out of Andover as Tewksbury coasted to the win, scoring an empty net goal with 1:09 left for the final 4-1 count. Jamie O'Brien, Shannon McCabe, Stevie Donovan, and Mosa Kaleel all had good scoring chances stopped after the third Tewksbury goal. Greg Najar played well enough in the nets to win most games but was let down by his teammates' inconsistent play.

Andover 2 - Ipswich 1

The PeeWee A's followed their poor Saturday performance with a win over a tough Ipswich squad in Danvers on Sunday. The victory was doubly sweet for Andover because it was over a team which knocked them out of the District Tournament and, more important, it assures Andover a slot in the Danvers League playoffs.

Andover scored the only goal of the first period while outshooting Ipswich 5-3. The score came 3:24 into the game when Georgie Heseltine rapped in a turnaround shot after picking up the rebound of Mark Neaves' shot. Timmy Donovan and Jeff McNeil (with 2) had good scoring chances stopped after Georgie's goal. One of Ipswich's three shots in the period resulted in an excellent save by Kenny Young.

Each team scored a goal in the second period, with Ipswich carrying the play and getting seven shots off to Andover's two. Forty-three seconds after Ipswich tied it up at 1-1, Jamie O'Brien took a nice feed from Cort Pomeroy and fired in a wrist shot from the edge of the left face-off circle. Good goaltending by Kenny Young and Greg Najar, aided by defensemen Earl Abdo and David Young, helped hold to a commanding 16-2 first period lead and stretched it to an insurmountable 31-2 at halftime.

The Marotta twins led the winners' assault by combining for 36 points, Gary pouring through 21 and Cliff adding 15.

Greg Harris fired through his 6 points in the opening period, Dave Dilling and Jeff Nazzaro dropped in 4 points each, and Eddie Sheehan had a first quarter basket.

St. Robert's C was the only team in the entire league with three players over 100 points, as Gibson pumped in 121 despite missing two games, Cliff Marotta added 112 and Gary Marotta 107.

Dave Rehe led the answering fire for United with 6 points, Andy McIntyre hooped 2, and single free throws were converted in the first period by Jen Ward and Andy Meckle.

Jim Ward, Mike Hulsey and Ginny MacDonald also played well for BU.

St. Robert's D, 12-10

Jennifer Morris, Tom Sheehan and Matt Moynihan sparked a fourth quarter surge by St. Robert's D, as that team erased a one-point deficit and eked out its tough win over Christ Church B at West Elementary.

Jennifer Morris shared game-high scoring laurels with 5 points. Sheehan added 4, Dennis Sampson 2 and Moynihan a fourth quarter foul shot.

Defensive stalwarts for the winners were Jim Murphy, Tracy Danner, Erik Green and Christine Sheehan.

Sandra Lyons notched 5 points for C-C, Adam Smith economized with 3, and Fred Newcomb netted a third period bucket.

Contributing solid floor games for C-C were Matt Corbett, Lori Ahouse, Matt Kelley and Dennis Gallant.

A race without side bets or big-money prizes is egg-spected to attract hundreds of visitors to Boston's Museum of Science Saturday, March 21.

The annual event is the Great Boston Egg Race, in which an ordinary egg is transported with only the energy given by a no. 10 rubber band. The winner is the one whose device goes the greatest distance on a course 25 meters long.

Beginning at 10 a.m., the race will engage three categories of entrants, children, teenagers, and adults. It will be held in the basement level of the museum's West Wing.

As in the last three races, contestants enter for the fun of inventing a vehicle to transport an egg. The prizes awarded are incidental and nominal.

Ipswich to one goal in the period and the game.

The final period saw several penalties and a lot of up and down action. Stevie Donovan, David Curtis, and David Bartle all had scoring bids stopped by the Ipswich goalie. As the game wound down, the defensive work of Paul Gilmartin and Matt Shine went a long way in securing the victory.

Squirt B

Andover 1 - Marblehead 0

Goalies Michelle DiStefano and Michael Murnane combined to shut out Marblehead 1-0 on Saturday, March 14, and gave Andover's Squirt B's their most exciting win of the season. The B's Danvers League record was hiked to 6-12-2 with the victory.

The B's most consistent offense in the first period came with Randy Moreau centering for Jimmy Morris and Todd Roycroft and backed by defensemen D.J. Camarota and Timmy Sullivan. The unit put steady pressure on the Marblehead defense and goalie but were unable to break through for a score. Despite the up and down action, the period ended with the teams deadlocked at 0-0.

The second period also ended with the score 0-0, but Andover again carried the play. Matty Pothier saw two excellent breakaways stopped by spectacular saves while his wiffigs, Michael DiStefano and Gary Bleszinski, were likewise robbed on other plays. The stage was set for an exciting final period.

The only score of the game came with only 1:11 left in the game as Eddie Chaisson fired in a wrist shot to complete a play begun by David Sopp and Matty Pothier who each earned assists on the goal. It came after Eddie and his linemates, David Sopp and Danny Iandoli, had kept the puck in the Marblehead zone on each of their shifts. The victory was insured by the late game play of defensemen Jonathan Shine and Michael Tiberii who combined to break up several desperate Marblehead rushes.

Peewee B Team Danvers League

Andover 7 - Stoneham 3

In this "Must" game, the PeeWee B's convincingly knocked off Stoneham, with whom they've been tied for almost all of the season, and in doing so, took over sole possession of first place in Danvers Division I. Coach John Young's squad really rose to the occasion, maturing and coming together as a team. The usual locker room horseplay was replaced by a lot of quiet talk and mental preparation. On the bench there was a lot of cheering, supporting and congratulating each other and urging teammates to play hard and work together. And on the ice, there was steady intensity and solid team effort.

Everyone had an exceptional game in one way or another.

Matt Alden's line, with Dan Hagerty and Mike Nelligan on the wings, had their best game of the season. Alden had Andover's final goal of the night, just after an excellent job of killing off a penalty situation. Chris Sapuppo got the assist to cap off a five point game for himself. Seconds before, he had stepped in for Nelligan who had broken up a Stoneham attack, catching a slapshot in the ankle just under the shin guard. Minutes later, Nelligan came back to take an effective shift at defense, giving a chance for three other wings with two goals each some extra time up front to try for the hat trick. Hagerty put in some great work down his lane on a power play. Centers Kyle McCabe and Bill Bruno were tremendous in their control of play between the blue lines, and repeatedly started scoring threats with strong rushes into the zone. Twice these resulted in Mark Berberian's getting the puck behind the net and setting up Matt Young in front for good goals.

Dave Riddiford was very tough in the corners and deep in the offensive zone. After Stoneham had scored first, turning one of Andover's very few mistakes into a breakaway, Dave tied the score, picking up a deflected shot by Sapuppo and driving it past the goalie. Later he picked up Andover's third goal, grabbing another loose puck from one of Sapuppo's rushes and lifting a backhand over the goalie's glove. And again later, he rifled a hard pass across the goal mouth from the edge of the circle, finding Sapuppo in perfect position to slap it into the corner.

Chris Adams and Chris Hansberry were outstanding in goal, each making a couple of tremendous saves on breakaways.

Junior Church League Action

By She Livermore

The Junior Church Basketball League finished its season last week. St. Robert C. last year's cellar team, won the West Division title with a perfect 10-0 record. In the East Division, St. Augustine D edged St. Augustine C out of their tie for top spot, making Christ A the sole winner of the title.

The results of the championship game between St. Robert C and Christ A for the league title were not available at press time.

East Division

Christ A 20 - Christ B 1

Christ A sealed the East Division title with a lopsided 20-1 victory over a less experienced Christ B lineup.

John Russell and Steffin Tomlinson combined for 6 points apiece, whilst Tad Lee and Robert Ashworth each contributed 4 to the victory.

Bob Nash's free throw in the second quarter denied Christ A the shutout.

Bruce Russell and Dave Ahouse contributed greatly to the teams' overall efforts during the season.

St. Augustine D 12

St. Augustine C 10

Two charity shots tossed in by Craig Knight for St. Augustine D in overtime action spelled doom for St. Augustine C's hope of winding up the season in a first place tie with Christ A for the division title. They did, however, capture second place.

Down five points going into the final quarter, the C lineup fought back, tied it up and pushed the game into overtime. The two foul shots awarded St. Augustine D early in the overtime period completed by Craig Knight won them the upset victory.

Andy Peck led the scoring for St. Augustine D with 6 points, Craig Knight contributed 5, including the pivotal overtime free throws, and David Lucey added a solo.

James Edwards tossed in 5 points including 3 in the fourth quarter rally, Peter Caruso added 2 and Jeff Edwards contributed a solo.

Russ Lanouette and Paul Girard contributed greatly to the overall efforts of both teams during the season.

South 16 Ballardvale United 8

Excellent defensive play by the Ballardvale crew held an aggressive South lineup to a 16-8 victory.

Jim Hendry led the victors with 7 points. Chris Eggert swished in 6, Leo Fontaine contributed 2 and Bryan Boucher added a solo.

Kim Lowe, Chris Lowe, Jodi Jangro and Kim Nutter each tossed in a basket for Ballardvale in their finest game of the season.

Charles Hayes, Bev Nutter and Al Eggert contributed greatly to the overall efforts of both teams during the season.

West Division

St. Robert C 18

St. Augustine A 6

St. Robert C won their tenth straight victory and the West Division title in beating St. Augustine A 18-6. In the cellar last year, St. Robert C proved you can come from behind if you are willing to put in the effort.

Almost the entire team contributed to the last victory. James Spinelli, brother Stephen, Mark Shwetz, and Brad Reghitto each contributed 3 points, Kevin Murphy, Mike Faraci tossed in a basket apiece, and Mike Smith and Paul DeMarco each made a free throw count.

John Davies put St. Augustine A on the scoreboard with 2 baskets and Patrick Kelley added a solo.

Ed Spinelli and Mike LeBreck contributed greatly to the overall efforts of both teams during the season.

St. Robert A 27 Temple Emmanuel 10

St. Robert A wound up the season with an impressive 27-10 victory over Temple Emmanuel, and a second place tie in the league standings.

Chris Landers led the scoring barrage with 9 points, Wendy Marotta added 7, Danny Fay tossed in 6, Mark Green contributed 3, and Matt Perry swished in 2 free throws.

Steve Gack put Temple Emmanuel on the scoreboard with 4 points. Robert Labell chipped in 3, Mark Leinson added a basket, and Jeff Goodman completed a charity shot.

Steve Fay and Paul Goodman contributed greatly to the overall efforts of both teams during the season.

St. Robert D 16 - West Parish 11

With one minute left on the clock Adam Guild put West Parish ahead with a 20-foot hook shot; Paul VanDerWielen tied the score for St. Robert's with an outside shot with five seconds remaining, throwing the game into overtime. With overtime running out, Chris Lane swished in two charity shots and St. Robert D won a hard-fought victory.

Four players contributed to the victory lines generated was a direct result of the control provided by defensemen, especially at the offensive blue line and in penalty situations. Tom Herling had a bad first shift, but more than made up for it for the rest of the game. He and John Gangi had several shots each from high in the circles and in the late going, they paired up on a penalty killing unit that spent more time trying to score than protecting the Andover goal. Mark Needham controlled almost everything that happened on his side of the zone and got off a couple of testing shots. Peter Trede and Gregg Tormey seemed to be right where they were needed all night. Brian Gibson not only played very solid defense, but also picked up a goal, putting in a 20-foot shot to finish off a play set up by Sapuppo.

It looks as if a long season of hard work is falling into place.

Wilmington League Andover 2 - Reading 2

Andover continues to have an exciting series with Reading and this year's record now stands at one win each and two ties, while Andover has won their only non-league scrimmage. Andover played well enough to win this game, but the same could probably be said for Reading whose Adam Guild led the scoring for West Parish with a season high of 10 points and Dave Carnes contributed 4.

Ken Saliba, Yvan Levesque, George Sweeney and Ed Bilger contributed greatly to the overall efforts of both teams during the season.

St. Robert B 10 St. Augustine B 9

St. Robert B won a close 10-9 victory over St. Augustine B, who played catch up in the final quarter and almost succeeded in changing the final result.

Chris Sullivan was high scorer for St. Robert B with 8 points and Patrick Romano made it 10 with his single.

Dawn Fater and Patrick Finn each contributed 4 points for St. Augustine and Chris Allard swished in a charity shot.

Bob Allard and Bill Martin contributed greatly to the overall efforts of both teams during the season.

Special Needs Field Games Are Planned

The third annual Special Field games for special needs children and adults will be co-sponsored again this year by Merrimack Valley Works, Chapter 78, Telephone Pioneers of America, North Andover, and the Employees' Association of Bon Secours Hospital, Methuen.

The games will be Sunday, May 31, at Northern Essex Community College (NECCO), Haverhill.

The contestants are those who are physically handicapped or mentally retarded.

The games include the 25-yard, 50-yard and 100-yard dash; softball throw, soccer ball kick, ball-in-box race, team relay race, wheelchair race and frisbee toss, among others.

The program is run similar to the World Olympics insofar as the contestants march onto the field in parade formation, signalling the start of the day's events.

Committee members planning the program from Western Electric's Pioneers' Chapter and Bon Secours Hospital are from Haverhill, Methuen, North Andover, Andover, Salisbury and Salem, Plaistow and Raymond, N.H.

Applications are available from Bea White, Dept. 84564, 1600 Osgood St., North Andover, MA 01845.

Andover dominated the early going, but it was Reading who scored first, taking advantage of a failure to control the puck on the boards and converting it into a quick pass in front to an open man. Andover kept on the pressure and Tim Adams, playing net for the first half of the game, made some good saves and one spectacular move to deny a Reading breakaway.

At the start of the second period, Brian Gibson, Gregg Tormey, Dan Hagerty and Matt Alden put on a great display of penalty killing. Gibson spent most of the game trying out the left wing position with each of the forward lines and provided a lot of heavy work along the boards and in the corner. He also had a couple of good shots, one on a breakaway, ringing a shot off the post.

Andover's line of Matt Young, Kyle McCabe and Mark Berberian had pressure on Reading all night, and had a number of scoring bids as did Matt Alden and Dan Hagerty. Peter Trede and Mark Needham chipped in with some very strong work at the points.

Dave Riddiford had both Andover goals. He got the first after Reading had gone ahead by two, redirecting John Gangi's shot from just above the right circle. Bill Bruno also assisted on that one.

Then late in the third period, Tom Herling kept a loose puck in and tossed it into the corner, where Chris Sapuppo got control and rushed directly on the corner of the net. His shot was blocked but deflected to Dave at the other corner and he lifted a shot past the goalie to give Andover the tie.

Chris Hansberry, playing the second half of the game in goal, made several fine saves to keep Andover in control, on one play rushing out 25 feet to deflect a loose puck and take out a forward intent on turning it into a breakaway.

In the last minute and a half, Andover's defense held tough and a tie was the best either team could come away with.

After Paul McDonald tied the score for North Andover Supply, David Abdoo took a Mark Durkee pass at the goal mouth and fired it past Pat Hayes to put Indian Ridge back on top 2-1. James Marocco scored the winning goal early in the third period as he picked up Rob Moody's rebound and put it behind Hayes. Mike Alden and Steve Duncan combined to pull North Andover Supply within a goal only to have Mark Durkee, from Scott Grant, score with less than a minute to play to clinch the victory for Indian Ridge.

Haffner's 7

Indian Ridge Country Club 2

Dan Zappalla figured in four of his teams' seven goals Sunday as Haffner's routed Indian Ridge Country Club 7-2 at Phillips Academy. The victory earned Haffner's the top seed in the upcoming league playoffs. Burke Harrington opened the scoring for Haffner's at the 30 second mark of the first period with Zappalla assisting. Harrington and Zappalla reversed roles a minute later for a 2-0 lead. Troy Lombardi, from Zappalla, made it 3-0 after the first period. Indian Ridge showed some life early in the second period as Mark Durkee and Craig Wonson combined to make it 3-1. That life was short however, as Zappalla, Paul Gaudet, Tom Long, and Burke Harrington scored to give Haffner's a 7-1 lead after two periods. In the third period Indian Ridge recharged themselves and used strong body checking to neutralize Haffner's speed, only to have Gary Bachinsky turn them away with several key saves.

Address Changes

Taxpayers who move after filing their federal income tax returns and are expecting a refund should notify the post office serving the old address, Herbert B. Mosher, District Director for IRS in Massachusetts, says.

The IRS center where the return was filed should also be notified of the address change. This will help the IRS to forward the refund check to the new address as soon as possible. When advising the IRS of the address change, the taxpayer's Social Security number should be included the legitimacy of viewpoints, concerns, interpretations and opinions of responsible staff members.

Allegations that Mrs. Poore was in conflict of interest also were rejected by the manager. He found that the Poores and Apple Blossom Development, which they own, were not involved in the purchase of gravel from a local developer while the selectman was acting in her official capacity. The same was true of contractual arrangements with an engineering firm which was also doing business with the town subsequent to her service on the board.

The manager said that in conversations with Mrs. Poore, he had sought to determine if there was some way Kear could continue, but failed to find an approach. "In a discussion I inquired as to whether or not she felt it was possible for Rhys to make satisfactory adjustment so as to satisfactorily head the department of community development and planning. Again, Mrs. Poore said she did not think it was possible and did not know how that could occur."

Clark went on to say that in recent months conversations concerning the department has been infrequent and that the ultimate decision to seek Kear's resignation is his alone.

"I think it is important, however, for Mrs. Poore and the board of selectmen to understand there is a broadly felt concern by a number of town department heads, many of the persons within the department of community development and planning, other board and commission members, including the finance committee and planning board that Mrs. Poore appears to be involved in efforts to remove individuals from the employ of the town," the report states.

Clark cites examples of activities which could lead to public doubt about the actions of the selectman, such as storage of equipment on private land in violation of zoning laws and preparation of land for a septic system without an installer's permit. The report points out that persons in public life must live differently and that a selectman in the development business leads to a more stringent public scrutiny.

At one point in the report, Clark states that a possible solution to the current problem is for either Kear or Poore to leave the town employ, which would resolve one of the sources of controversy, but such a solution will not resolve the basic issue of a lack of policy and leadership provided by the Board of Selectmen. The substantive benefit to be derived from the current controversy will not materialize.

Included in Clark's conclusions is the need for the board to recognize that a clear definition is still needed from them as to what they expect as a board, with respect to growth management and the posture expected of town officials when presented proposals to the town.

school, and increasing the pupil:teacher ratio throughout the system to a range of 28:1 to 32:1. This would, Seifert said, maintain current emphasis on growth and development, with a readiness room in Bancroft and West to be open on a system-wide basis, and one additional teacher per building to assist primary teams in instruction.

• Also four and four-fifths specialists - largely through the closing of a school, these cuts would include one specialist each in art, music, phys ed and media, and four-fifths of an instructional specialist. Seifert said consistency of services would largely be maintained in each school, though the specialist to pupil ratio would be increased to 445:1.

• 20 secondary classroom teachers ($326,000) - including three in foreign language, three in math, 3.5 in science, 3.5 in social studies, four in English, and one each in business, industrial arts and career education. Seifert said the junior high program would remain largely as is, with slightly higher teacher:pupil ratios, but at the high school, fewer courses would be offered. Additional hours team teachers have had for planning would be eliminated, and electives in industrial arts, business and English would be reduced.

• Two instrumental music teachers ($42,000) - the secondary school orchestra and bands would be maintained at a reduced level; introductory group lessons on the elementary level would be reduced and the size of groups increased, and secondary school group lessons would be eliminated.

The total salary savings, Seifert said, would be in the area of $1,075,200.

A total budget reduction of $1,175,000 is necessary to bring the budget down to the 2½-required level. In addition to the salaries, Seifert present options for expense cuts totalling $382,500.

Participates In Exercise

Navy Aviation Machinist's Mate Airman Philip M. Knowlton III, son of Virginia J. Knowlton of 2 Walker Road, North Andover, recently participated in "National Week XXX" in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is a member of Tactical Electronic Warfare Squadron 138, based at the Naval Air Station, Whidbey Island, Wash., and embarked aboard the aircraft carrier USS John F. Kennedy.

The exercise, involving more than 15 ships and 100 aircraft from the U.S. 6th Fleet, was designed to test naval warfare techniques in a multi-threat environment. Anti-air, submarine, surface ship and task force warfare techniques were practiced during the exercise.

His squadron flies the EA-6B "Prowler" jet aircraft. The planes are specially equipped to conduct electronic warfare (jamming) operations in addition to their all-weather ability to detect and locate enemy targets.

Knowlton joined the Navy in July 1978.

Lennon Is Commissioned

Navy Ensign Robert L. Lennon, 5 Osgood St., Andover, has been commissioned in his present rank upon graduation from Officer Candidate School (OCS).

OCS, located at the Naval Education and Training Center, Newport, R.I., is designed to prepare students to assume the duties and responsibilities of commissioned officers.

During the 16-week course, candidates studied the principles of leadership, manpower management techniques, navigation and communications. They additionally studied Navy history, traditions and missions; the structure and organization of naval commands; military courtesy; uniform regulations; seamanship; and the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

A 1976 graduate of Brooks High School, North Andover, and a 1980 graduate of Marquette University, Milwaukee, with a bachelor of arts degree, he joined the Navy in October 1980.

Area Youth Join Air Force

Two area youths have entered the Air Force Delayed Enlistment Program according to Technical Sergeant Geri Griffin, the local recruiter. All three are scheduled to depart for Basic Military Training at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas, on or before Sept. 30.

The new recruits are eligible for the Veteran's Education Assistance Program which will give them up to $8100 for education or training after they complete their military service. The new Air Force members are:

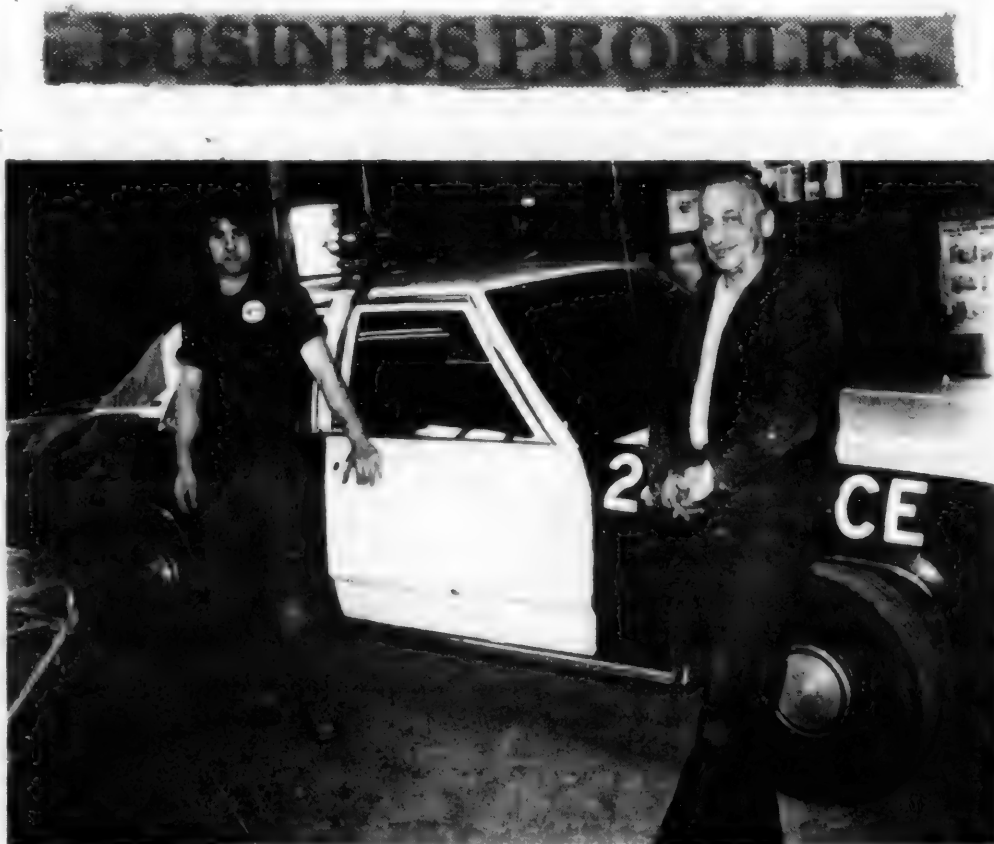

Scott Nolin, 18, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nolin of 5 Gemini Circle in Andover, is a graduate of Andover High School. Scott left Jan. 29 for technical training in mechanics.

Anthony Ray DuBose, 24, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Layne DuBose of 26 Timothy Drive, Andover. DuBose will pursue a career in general technology. He graduated from Andover High School in 1974 and was awarded a Bachelor of Science in Business from Northeastern University in 1979. He departs March 26. DuBose will enter the Air Force as an Airman First Class under the stripes for education program.

During basic training all new recruits undergo six weeks of transitional training. They then attend technical training for the career field they enlisted for and will work in after schooling. Air Force technical schools are located in five sites in the United States: San Antonio, Texas, Denver, Colorado, Biloxi, Miss., Rantol, Ill., and Wichita Falls, Texas. New recruits earn four semester hours of credit at the Community College of the Air Force upon completion of basic training. They are awarded additional credits upon completion of technical training.

Company

For the site of his "magnificent model community," Wood chose tiny Frye Village, which his 60-acre estate overlooked. The village, settled in 1718, was a "cross-roads community" built around the intersection of Haverhill, Lowell and North Main streets.

Frye Village had "barren fields and swamps," little industry and few houses. It had been described, Roddy said, as "a village crossroads where it is always Friday afternoon, and nothing ever happens."

By 1919, construction of the new community was well underway, with Wood "supervising every aspect. It was a one-man show, directed and produced by Wood," Roddy explained. "He hired the finest architects and landscapers from around the world." While it was under construction, the village was "the talk of the United States."

Showing a slide of the post office — which now houses the Lawrence Savings Bank — Roddy explained that it was the first building constructed in the new village. By that time Wood had decided that Frye Village was "too unpretentious a name" for his community, and had petitioned the U.S. Postal Authority to approve a new name: Shawsheen Village.

Wood planned two separate residential districts, one for middle management and one for top management personnel. Middle management people were to be housed east of Main Street in "White Shawsheen," where each of the 250 wooden houses would be painted white, with green shutters. "Perhaps he wanted them to be miniature little Arden estates," Roddy theorized.

West of Main Street were built the larger and more elaborate brick houses meant to house top executives; this section was called "Red Shawsheen."

Throughout the village, Wood indulged his idiosyncrasies, Roddy said. For instance, there were to be no garages, no above-ground wiring, and no garbage cans — all condemned by Wood as "unsightly." He personally selected the street lights, and when the Shawsheen River interfered with his plans for White Shawsheen, Wood changed the course of the river.

As Moses parted the Red Sea, so William Wood changed the course of the Shawsheen to suit his purposes," Roddy joked, drawing a laugh from his audience.

Most of the imposing buildings pictured in Roddy's slides are still Shawsheen landmarks today, although many have undergone some degree of transformation. Wood was proudest of the Balmoral Spa, "the only spa north of Boston where you can buy a $1 cigar," he once boasted.

The magnificent drugstore — now housing the offices of the Andover Companies — was "opulent beyond words," Roddy said. It featured marble pillars, marble tile floors, a "great dance pavilion," and tennis, boating and canoeing, all strictly for residents of the village.

Because his top executives had cars but no garages, by his own decree — Wood built the Shawsheen garage. Garage attendants parked the residents' cars, then chauffeured them to their front doors, and picked them up in the morning.

And because he did want to see "clothes fluttering in the backyards" of White Shawsheen, Wood had a laundry built in the village.

Wood had the Merchants Building erected next to the post office to house offices (it is now the Aberdeen Apartments). He converted the Smith estate, once the home of one of Andover's leading citizens, into the Shawsheen Manor, "a first-rate hotel with 14 private guest rooms, a dining room, and a separate dining room for chauffeurs."

He built "two of the finest woolen mills in the world," employing 26,000 to 27,000 "hands" who commuted from Lawrence; to accommodate them, Wood built the Shawsheen Railroad Station, and a restaurant with a bowling alley and movie theatre in the basement.

A small fieldstone building he had seen and admired at Valley Forge was reproduced, stone for stone, on Haverhill Street as a boys' club and voting booth (today it is used by the Andover Co. of Militia).

Wood provided several recreation areas in the village, including playing fields for soccer and football, a track, and bleachers (still in use today, minus the bleachers). To provide for less sports, he built a bowling green on the corner of Haverhill Street and laid out the 18-hole golf course at the Andover Country Club. And he had Hussey's Pond drained, a cement bottom installed, and bath houses erected.

But the "showpiece and crowning gem" of the village was the administrative headquarters for the American Woolen Company, "a massive, four-story, 130,000-square foot building made of Indiana limestone."

The building is now the Balmoral Apartments. Wood planned to move the company headquarters there from Boston.

When the headquarters building was finished in late 1923, Shawsheen Village was nearly complete, and Wood "snapped his fingers" and ordered all of his executives to move to the village. "Some came willingly, some reluctantly," Roddy explained. "But if you valued your position with the company, you came — and so they came, from Boston, from Brookline, from Wellesley."

Wood's dream village was finally a reality in 1924 — but it was to be short-lived as a corporate community. The industrialist soon suffered personal tragedies — the death of William, Jr., in an automobile accident on Route 28, the death of a daughter from Spanish influenza — and two strokes.

The man who loved to work, who had worked at least 17 hours a day, was told that to continue working would surely cost him his life. Wood resigned the presidency at the age of 66.

In 1925, the new president of the company closed the administrative headquarters, moving the woolen company's offices back to Boston. "It was the end of the dream," Roddy said. "Wood took his own life in Florida in 1926."

But Shawsheen Village lives on, an enduring memorial to a "remarkable man who dreamed dreams, and put his dreams into actuality." And it is a "tribute to the far-sightedness of Wood's architectural and urban planning views," the professor concluded, that the village was placed on the National Register of Historic Places last year.

Permit Fees Are Waived

With bid documents for the $11.72 million, three-part school building program now near completion, the selectmen Monday night agreed to waive the fees for local building permits for the project, which could total approximately $74,000.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark explained that unless the bid documents make it clear the town will not demand fees for building, electrical, plumbing and other permits, general contractors will add an allowance for the fees to their bids, over and above the cost of the fees.

Waiving the fees will also help ease the pressure on the program's "extremely tight budget," Clark added.

Health Talk

Dr. Timothy Johnson, noted medical personality of Channel 5's "Good Morning, America" and the new health magazine, "Healthbeat," will speak at Greater Lowell Regional Vocational Technical High School on Pawtucket Boulevard, Lowell, Wednesday, April 22, at 7:30 p.m. His theme will be "Shape Up For Life—Nutrition, Fitness, Stress," a topic of interest to all.

Dr. Johnson's appearance is sponsored by Middlesex North District Medical Society Auxiliary, a non-profit organization dedicated to community health education.

One of the strengths of the new bill is that utilities are required to verify that their fuel purchases have been at the lowest possible rate for the retail consumer. The bill also limits the unscheduled purchase power costs from being automatically passed through to the consumer

"The new provisions in this bill are encouraging in their protection of the consumer. I am pleased that the new bill creates a bureau to enforce these provisions and that the Department of Public Utilities is mandated to hire at least ten professional technicians to staff the new Fuel Adjustment Bureau," said Senator McGovern

The action by the committee represents Phase One of a two-part attack on fuel adjustment costs. As a second phase of the Committee on Government Regulations' actions on fuel adjustment, hearing will be held to determine whether fuel company proceeds have been excessively high and what further steps can be taken to control the automatic pass-through of fuel costs to consumers.

"In terms of the outrage expressed by residents of Lawrence and Andover, I feel that this fuel adjustment bill is the most important piece of legislation that we legislators have dealt with to date. I intend to work vigorously for its passage," concluded McGovern

A solar-powered airplane may fly from Paris to London next summer. The experimental, 175-pound Solar Challenger is being tested in Arizona. The top area of the wings is covered with 30,000 photovoltaic cells that convert sunlight into electricity for the motor to turn the propeller. So far, the longest sustained flight has been 14 miles, Massachusetts Audubon reports

KNOW YOUR ZONING

In a nutshell, zoning laws lay out restrictions as to what kind of buildings may be constructed and how they can be used within certain geographic limits. A good community has zoning laws that protect its homeowners. However, they may also put a crimp into future remodeling plans you have in mind.

For example, if the area is zoned for one-family homes, you may not be able to use a part of the house for some special use, such as converting an area for an office or partly for business. There may height restrictions or lot-size limitations.

Before buying, you should know what the zoning is, and the geographic limits of residential and business-zoned areas in your locality. It may affect the future value of your property and save you from an unexpected disappointment.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Hil I'm Joe Clementi of Christian Homes in Andover. We're amazed at the way The Lord is blessing our Real Estate Business and want to publicly thank Him for His faithfulness. Despite mortgage rates between fourteen and fifteen percent and a general quietness in the real estate industry, we have sold, optioned and arranged financing for more land, houses and investment properties so far this year than at any time in our history.

If you've noticed more and more CHRISTIAN HOMES signs on properties from Southern New Hampshire to Brookline, and from Westwood to Danvers, you're probably as surprised as we are about our amazing success story. We know for a certainty the results of The Lord's promise, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and all things will be added unto you." We at CHRISTIAN HOMES are committed to keeping The Lord first, in our personal and business lives and can honestly give Him the glory for what's happening. A Jewish lawyer at a recent sale may have paid us our highest compliment when he commented to our buyers on a creative financing package we put together involving a series of mortgages "You folks have either been working with a financial genius, or this sale was arranged in Heaven!" We don't promise all of our customers "Heavenly Financing" but we can promise you that we can help make your next purchase or sale with "Blessed Assurance." Please feel free to call us for an evaluation of your property, or an appointment to see some of the finest properties on the market.

Abramson Thanks Colleagues

Selectmen Chairman James Abramson, who did not seek re-election to the board after serving one three-year term, chaired his last meeting Monday night. The board's next meeting will be held March 30, following Monday's town election. In his parting remarks, Abramson thanked his colleagues on the board, saying it has been "a very rewarding experience working with all of the boards — there have been three boards in my three years."

The chairman said he has found serving on the board "for the most part enjoyable, although at times it was somewhat frustrating. A town, a municipality, a state, or a federal government doesn't work with quite the same rapidity and efficiency as a private enterprise," he remarked.

"It has been an extremely interesting and rewarding experience, and one I certainly wouldn't trade," Abramson said in his informal comments. "I thank you all."

Vice Chairman Norma Gammon thanked the chairman for his "years of service to the town, his dedication, and for moving along the meetings very quickly — it's been great working with you."

Selectman Edward Harris offered a formal motion of thanks to Abramson, which was quickly approved by the board.

Abramson opened his last meeting with a characteristic flash of humor. Surveying the large audience on hand at Memorial Hall Library for a number of items on the board's agenda, he joked, "I'd like to thank this large crowd for turning out for my last meeting."

Greer Named Planner

The appointment of a new planning board member, Jerry Greer of 157 Osgood St., was unanimously approved by the selectmen Monday night.

Greer is an M.I.T. graduate who works as a civil engineer, specializing in economics, for the Charles T. Main Company, an engineering consulting firm.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark, who appointed the newest planner, said Greer should prove to be "an excellent member of the planning board, who can provide the additional skill of civil engineering to the board."

Greer's appointment brings the five-member planning board up to full strength, following the recent departure of former chairman Paul Teplitz.
